BOOKWALTER TAKEN UP BY THE JOHNSON FACTION AS SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

He Is a Millionaire and the Democracy Would Like to See Him In
the Race.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 10.—The Johnson wing has discarded John J. Lentz, of Columbus, and taken up John W. Bookwalter, of Springfield, for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Bookwalter has not been in politics since 1881, when, as the candidate of the Democracy for governor, he was defeated by Charles Foster, Republican, by a plurality of 25,000. He is a millionaire and a liberal contributor to the campaign fund. The Johnson people will center on him to weaken the candidacy of John L. Zimmerman, both being from the same city. The convention would not stand for nominations for the two highest places going to any one city, and the Johnson people realize that if they can secure the convention's endorsement of Bookwalter for the endorsement that Zimmerman will be shut out of the nomination for governor. Tom Johnson is determined to have that gubernatorial nomination and his lieutenants are leaving nothing undone to bring this about. The Ohio Democracy is in the throes of one of the bitterest factions it has had on hand for many years. Arrayed on one side are the Johnson forces and on the other the conservatives who are for Zimmerman.

Carrie Nation, the erstwhile joint smasher, sets high value upon herself as an attraction. Her manager has written the state board of agriculture stating that if that body will pay the redoubtable Carrie Nation $200 she will deliver a lecture at the approaching state fair. The board concluded she was not a desideratum and rejected the proposition.

Hon. W. S. McKinnon, of Ashtabula, has fixed August 20-22 as the time and Cedar Point as the place for the annual reunion of the general assembly and its attaches. Captain John Maynard, reading clerk, is now sending out notices and invitations of the event to all members, legislative attaches, legislative correspondents and state officials and urging their presence.

manufacturers it was with the request that the union might receive an answer in time to make the scale operative on August 10. In the majority of instances this was done and at a number of factories in the city the new agreement now prevails. In the case of the pottery manufacturers, however, a misunderstanding occurred and instead of addressing their request to the Potters' association the individual factory owners were notified. The error was not discovered in time to avoid delay and it will probably be several days before the matter is wound up.

As soon as the mistake was noticed, the officers of the union hastened to rectify it, and late last week received an answer from the secretary of the association. It now appears that the manufacturers were also laboring under a misapprehension with regard to the steam engineers' union, as they had the impression that when they came to an agreement with the Brotherhood it would adjust the differences in all branches of the mechanical department. As a matter of fact the engineers are an entirely separate organization and have nothing in common with the operative potters, save that the running of the engines is an essential to the successful operation of all factories.

The regular meeting of the Potters' association will be held on tomorrow evening, and until then nothing can be done toward obtaining the signatures of the manufacturing potters to the scale.

ASSAULT IS CHARGED BY MRS. GIRARD

Alleges That Mrs. Johannes Laid Violent Hands Upon Her.

Mrs. Joseph Girard, wife of a Walnut street saloonist, swore out a warrant at noon before the mayor, for the arrest of Mrs. John Johannes, charging her with assault.

Mrs. Girard, it is said, had been accused of being too friendly to Johannes, and going to the home of the latter to make inquiry, she was assaulted. The hearing will be held this evening.

BOLD SWIMMER LOST HIS LIFE

ITALIAN BOY DROWNED AT WELLSVILLE YESTERDAY.

Sank From Sight In Full View of Companions—Body Not Recovered.

Started by a despairing cry for help, the companions of Nicola Dianzio, an Italian boy, aged 18 years, turned just in time to see him sink beneath the waters of the Ohio, near the pier opposite the rolling mill in Wellsville. The boys, most of whom were Italians, had been enjoying a Sunday afternoon swim, and Dianzio, more daring than the others, had swum considerable distance from the pier. He either became exhausted or was seized with a cramp and sank before help could reach him.

A search for the body was immediately instituted by a party of fishermen and men from the rolling mill and it was continued throughout the night and today without success. Both grappling hooks and dynamite were used.

Dianzio had been in this country little more than a year and lived with Nicola Solvano, his brother-in-law, on Third street.

HEIDRICK PROMISES TO BEHAVE BETTER

Released from Jail He Agrees to Care for His Wife And Children.

Walter Heidrick was released from the city jail this morning, and accompanied by his wife and children left the city hall resolved to begin all over again.

Heidrick, who has experienced a revolution of feeling since getting away from the Early woman, is determined to do the right thing and his wife is very happy in consequence. He states that the Early girl has communicated with him and promises to shoot him on sight. He believes she is bluffing and will pay no attention to the threat. Heidrick maintains that he was not to blame for the trouble, as he says the girl was continually hanging about and it was impossible to keep out of her way.

Mrs. Heidrick's brother is much disturbed over the reports that there were none to offer his sister shelter or a home. He says she is welcome at his home at all times.

FELL INTO THE RIVER IN A FIT OF DIZZINESS

Narrow Escape of a Camper Who Was Upset from a Boat.

James Ackerman, a prominent Pittsburgher, who spent Sunday with the campers opposite Line island, fell into the river from a boat yesterday afternoon and was rescued with some difficulty by his companions. Fortunately the water was shallow at the spot or the mishap might have terminated fatally.

Mr. Ackerman was seized with a spell of dizziness and could do nothing to help himself.

A $1,000 Note in Dispute.

Lisbon, August 10.—(Special)—Robert Campbell is plaintiff in a suit against W. S. Potts, as administrator of the estate of John Matthews. He avers that, on June 17, 1897, John Matthews delivered to Charles Matthews his promissory note for $1,000, made July 15, 1890. Robert Campbell then purchased the note and claims no part of it has been paid. The administrator has entirely rejected the claim. The plaintiff asks interest and cost.

NUMEROUS WILD DOGS

ALARMING THE FARMERS

The farmers about three miles back of Chester are becoming alarmed over the increase in the number of wild dogs in that part of the country. The dogs are extremely ferocious and on account of their depredations last winter, John Wesley Johnston, Edward Hadley, William C. Allison and others of the farmers intend organizing a party for the purpose of exterminating the species.

The first of the wild dogs to make its appearance was about eight years ago, and was first seen by Bill Allison while going from his house to the barn. He called the animal which paid no attention to his call, but fled with the speed of the wind from him, disappearing in a thicket. The wild animal has put in his appearance regularly

A BUSY SUNDAY FOR THE POLICE

Began Early in the Morning With a Raid Upon a Saloon.

M'DERMOTT'S GREAT LUCK

Three Prisoners Landed Without the Necessity of Hunting for Them. Other Arrests for Various Offenses Increase the Total.

There was unusual activity in police circles on Saturday night and Sunday, and at noon yesterday the total number of offenders gathered in being 10. There were an unusually large number of people on the streets Saturday night and it was quite late before the officers were permitted to look up lawbreakers on the edges. At a little after 1 o'clock Chief Wyman and Officers Dawson and Saulsberry were on Second street, and from their observation concluded there was something doing at the saloon of Jimmie Larkins, near the passenger station. The officers made their way to the rear and succeeded in gaining an entrance.

The proprietor and four men were in the saloon and they were surprised when the officers made their appearance. The saloonist was ordered to appear before the mayor today and the four men caught in the place were brought to the city hall, where it was intended that they should stay until the mayor saw fit to give them a hearing. The unfortunate individuals captured in the saloons gave their names as Hugh Morris, Walter Shay, John Burke and Philip Brannon. The authorities are of the opinion that the men gave their right names, which is unusual under such circumstances. Shay had money and gave security for the appearance of Morris and himself on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The others were locked up. The charge against the proprietor of the place will be that of keeping his saloon open on Sunday and he will be prosecuted under the state law.

While the party was on its way from the Larkins saloon to city hall Officer Dawson encountered Elijah Cain, who was very drunk and acting in a disgusting and indecent manner. He was picked up and made to join the procession. Elijah is a man of poor judgment when it comes to handling booze, and he has been in trouble many times.

Officer McDermott had a great streak of luck yesterday morning. He had his favorite beat on Smoky and was in the vicinity of the National House when he heard a commotion near Walnut street. When he arrived on the scene K. P. Beatty, who resides in that vicinity, was in the act of throwing two drunks over the fence.

The men had been leaning against the fence, and being very drunk they both lost their balance and fell over into the yard. Mr. Beatty's dogs attacked the drunks, and it would doubtless have fared badly with them had not the owner appeared. The patrol was summoned and the men were taken to jail. They gave their names as James Daugherty and William Cassidy, and said they were employed by Contractor Sims.

McDermott had a suspicion that there were more of the crowd and it was well founded, for a few minutes later he discovered Dan Collins at the rear of the old gas house. Dan was paralyzed and it was necessary to carry him to the patrol, which had turned about and came directly to the spot. All three of the men are railroad la-

FROM PITTSBURG TO CLEVELAND

PROPOSED TRACTION LINES DOWN THE OHIO RIVER.

Will Join the Beaver Valley and New Castle Systems With Ohio Lines.

Charters have been granted at Harrisburg to two traction companies which propose to build important links in the trolley system connecting Pittsburgh with the Beaver valley. The officers of both companies are Philadelphia capitalists, and the promoters of the entire line ostensibly Philadelphians, but it is believed that they are the same men who were reported to be interested with Murry A. Verner and other Pittsburghers in the development of the traction facilities of the territory between New Castle and Pittsburgh.

The two companies will construct 13 miles of trolley roads between Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca. Interests identified with the same project are connected with the Beaver Valley Traction company, which now operates 35 miles of traction lines in western Pennsylvania. The work of construction will begin early in the fall.

The charters were as follows: To the Coraopolis & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build five miles of road, beginning on the public highway in Shousetown, Stoystown and extending through Stoystown, Coraopolis. The capital is $30,000; president, William Redwood Wright, of Philadelphia.

To the Monaca & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build 10 miles of road, beginning at Monaca, Beaver county, and extending through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa. The capital is $60,000; president, William Redwood Wright, of Philadelphia. The directors, all Philadelphians, are W. Frederick Snyder and Walter T. Bilyeu.

In discussing the new charters and the proposed plans of the company W. Frederick Snyder, of Philadelphia said:

"The lines now operated by the Beaver Valley Traction company start 18 miles north of Pittsburgh, run through 15 different boroughs and to a point 14 miles from New Castle. So prosperous has been the business of the company during the past year, the gross earnings having increased about 124 per cent, that the directors decided to extend the system through Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca, the idea being to connect Pittsburgh and New Castle. To that end the new lines were chartered and construction work will begin in the fall. The contract for the work has been awarded to A. H. Engstrom, a Philadelphia constructing engineer."

CASES OF DIPHTHERIA EXCITING ALARM

Uncertainty Felt Over the Prevalence of the Disease at Gavers.

Lisbon, August 10.—(Special)—The death of Jessie Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crawford, of Gavers, of diphtheria, the sickness of a younger child and subsequent quarantine of the family, has aroused considerable excitement in that community. The family of Andrew McDevitt is also quarantined because of the illness of Mrs. McDevitt, suspected to be diphtheria. The family of George Williams, who has been exposed to the disease, is also quarantined.

Reports today have it that all the patients are improving and no fear is entertained of the disease spreading.

OVER $100,000 WILL BE SPENT IN RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WELLSVILLE YARDS

Facilities Will Be Surpassed Only By Conway.
Harrison Rinehart Gets a Big Contract.

When the contract awarded Saturday by the C. & P. railroad to Harrison Rinehart, of this city, is completed, the Wellsville yards of the company will only be surpassed in extent by those at Conway. The contract is one of the largest of its nature entered into by the company in recent years, involving an expenditure of considerably more than $100,000. That the company has confidence in the ability of the successful bidder to complete the undertaking in the required length of time is in itself quite a compliment.

Mr. Rinehart has just completed some extensive paving work for the company and also for the city of Wellsville and will be free to devote all his men and implements to the new undertaking. He will commence work next Tuesday with about 100 men and 10 teams.

The contract calls for almost a mile of grading, commencing at a point near the Carroll-Porter boiler works and extending to the Vulcan brick plant. The estimated amount of dirt to be moved is 280,000 yards. Con-

COUNTY REUNION
OF SONS OF VETERANS

BIG GATHERING TO BE HELD AT SHELTON'S GROVE.

All the Camps in the County to Take Part—The Date August 19.

The members of the order of Sons of Veterans of Columbiana county will hold their first annual reunion Wednesday, August 19, at Shelton's grove, in the northern part of the county. It is expected that the attendance will be very large.

Several months ago the movement was started by the members of General Garfield camp of this city and the camp of Salem. A committee representing both organizations was appointed and have been at work ever since. The date was decided upon some time ago and the grove engaged for the occasion. The committee has arranged a program which promises to be entertaining.

Arrangements will be made when the camps of the county get together for the formation of a county organization. Representatives will be present from Salem, East Palestine, Wellsville, Lisbon and East Liverpool. It will be the aim of the new association to assist in the formation of new camps and to give the state and national officers all the aid possible. It is also proposed to keep up the reunion plan, and during the month of August of each year the meeting will be held.

The order has grown materially in Columbiana county since the division headquarters were established in East Liverpool, and Colonel J. J. Rose with his efficient staff has been unusually successful. Interested parties in a number of localities throughout the county have begun an agitation for the institution of new camps, and it is confidently expected that with in a year several organizations will have been added to the Ohio division.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

While general confidence is expressed in the crockery line that the fall trade will be up to, if not better than it was a year ago, there is as yet but little activity in the local warerooms. Of course, business is slowly but surely improving a little every day, but buyers are not here in such large numbers as had generally been looked for, says the New York Commercial. Even the salesmen who are now on the road have not yet sent in many orders, but they report general conditions as good, so that it is only a question of time when the trade will come in.

In anticipation of the movement which is expected to begin soon, the potteries of Trenton are already getting goods in readiness for display and shipment. The movement in both foreign and domestic goods is as yet quite dull, but seasonable and about on a par with the business effected a year ago.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.

It is stated that the West End Pottery company are about to make some more improvements around their works. They are to have a new watermain leading to the plant, to further its protection in case of fire, and new buildings for sagger house room, etc., will be erected immediately. The company will also install almost an entirely new outfit of machinery in this department of their works, which will facilitate matters greatly around the same. The pottery has five kilns now, which increases their capacity almost 100 per cent, and with these improvements the plant is capable of turning out almost twice as much ware as formerly.

DINOSAURS AND LOVE

The Prelude to a Romance—A Wedding to Follow in the Fall.

New York, August 10.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth ——, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of a prominent Harvard professor, and Mr. —— of New York, is the climax of a pretty romance as ever novelist conceived. This announcement follows closely that of the important discovery as to the habits of the Dinosaur. Indeed, this ancient animal might be said to be at the foundation of the love-making which has resulted in the announcement of the engagement. The story is intensely interesting.

The professor arrived in New York early in April. As his investigations were pursued in the American Museum of Natural History, he sought convenient and suitable quarters in the neighborhood of that magnificent institution. His friend, Judge Isham, suggested the Hotel Majestic, situated on five blocks distant at Seventy-Second street and Central Park, West, and there it was the professor found ideal accommodations. Indeed, so delighted was he with his surroundings that he wrote for his daughter to come to New York. Needless to say, she came, and it was there she met a well known member of the swell set. So it came about that while the professor was delving among the bones of ancient Dinosaurs at the museum, his daughter and the young New Yorker played the ancient and highly detectable game of love.

"They have such delightful concerts every evening at the hotel that both Elizabeth and I are content to seek a quiet corner of the grand foyer and listen to the music. The leader of the orchestra is a cello soloist of note and his orchestra is perfection.

"The foyer is the center of the social life of the hotel. Here ladies and gentlemen sit and chat and receive their friends. Here the orchestra plays its evening concert, excepting on warm evenings, when it transmits its melody to the roof garden.

"Of course, it goes without saying that the appointments, the cuisine and the service are perfect. But it is the tangible air of refinement that appeals to me. There is no restraint save that imposed by one's good breeding. And there is nothing of the shoddy in guests or garnishments. Everything is in exquisite taste.

"Elizabeth is wild over the shopping. We run down on the elevated or the trolleys, which we take a block from the hotel. It takes only about 15 minutes to reach the shops.

asked me to look up a hotel where he can bring his daughter next winter. Tell him they make it enjoyable here for young people.

"Don't imagine from all I have told you of the social side of life here that one is constantly in the social current. One may be a perfect recluse if he wants to be. I heard a good story yesterday of two ladies who met and became greatly attached to each other in Los Angeles, and who discovered, to their mutual surprise, that they both had been living at the Majestic ever since it was opened. The social element is here to enjoy, if you care for it; but there is no compulsion about it. So I have about decided to leave Elizabeth here when I go to Massachusetts next week to examine a recent find of fossils near Medfield. She will be in good hands, especially as Mrs. Willing and Mrs. Dumont are here, as well as a number of other people whom you know.

PATENT ENDANGERS RURAL CARRIERS JOB

A Western Man's Invention to Deliver and Collect Mail Mechanically.

Nelson S. Howell, of Cumming, Madison county, has a working model 80 rods long of an automatic mail delivery and collection apparatus, which is built according to a device he recently patented and is working satisfactorily, says a Red Oak, (Ia.) telegram. It is designed especially for rural mail service, supplanting carriers, but seems to be capable of development to an extent that would do away with many of the country postoffices and centralize the handling of mail to a great extent, expediting the service, reducing the number of carriers and clerks and greatly reducing expenses.

The apparatus consists of an endless cable, carried on poles and delivering and collecting mail by clockwork. The cable in a line 30 miles long can be operated by a 1 1/2 horse power gasoline engine, and the cable can be operated at a speed which will permit as many deliveries in a day as are desired. The power is supplied by a drum. The deliveries are regulated automatically.

For instance, if there are 50 patrons on the endless chain route, the mail pouch of No. 1 drops at his mail box, while the other 49 pouches are carried on, each dropping at its respective place. The collections are also made automatically. The apparatus is not intricate and does not readily get out of order.

It is claimed that the general use of this system by the government will not only reduce the cost of the rural mail service to a minimum, but will bring to every resident of the country, instead of a favored few, the modern convenience of a daily mail delivery.

The establishing of a cable-carrying plant in a county seat would be sufficient for the entire county.

It would simplify the work of the railway mail clerks enormously if they were required to throw mail only to the county seats. In Iowa, for instance, there are 91 county seats and 2,500 postoffices.

A lazy liver makes a lazy man. Burdock Blood Bitters is the natural, never failing remedy for a lazy liver.

Another unique thing about the Majestic—there has never been the breath of scandal here. I wish you would tell Colonel B. this for me. He

CHRIST THE FRIEND OF THE SUFFERER

Jesus Proved Himself Willing To Aid Even the Despised
Leper.

HIS CHARITY IS BROAD

Rev. J. G. Reinhart, of St. John's Lutheran church, preached to a large congregation last night, taking as his text, "And Jesus said, 'Were there not ten cleansed? Where are the nine?'" He said in part:

"In a little town of Samaria stand two lepers afar off. Look at that isolated group of unfortunate and thank God that you have not that disease among you. The leper was shut out from home and society and outside of the wall of the city he lived in a solitary camp. Others could worship and offer sacrifices in the house of Christ, but no high priest went within the pale of the poor leper. But Jesus passed on his way to the feast at Jerusalem. What a contrast in His bearing toward the leper! The healer of all diseases, the comforter of all that are in distress, has a look of love and pity and a bearing of power.

"No friend sympathizes so tenderly with his friend in affliction as does Jesus. In all our afflictions, He is afflicted. He feels all our sorrows. Whence it is that the sufferings of believers are called the sufferings of Christ? His righteousness is over you, His strong arm is around you and he who puts his soul in Christ's keeping shall never perish nor come into condemnation. This is our friend in need and our friend in deed.

"Those ten lepers who had despaired of all other help now cried, 'Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.' Unlike all Jewish practice, Jesus had mercy and He healed them. Blessed Master, we are all lepers, and whilst the self-righteousness will starve us because of sin, thou dost pity, touch and heal our unrighteousness. None, Jesus, one Samaritan. Nine are of Jesus' people and one is not. Are there more of God's chosen afflicted than of the worlding? You think that none who are born of the household of faith ought to have temptations, troubles and afflictions. But when they sin, the greater is their responsibility, the quicker is their punishment. 'Have mercy on us.' Yes, they felt that there was guilt and judgment connected with their misery. All suffering is of sin. You must remove sin to remove suffering.

"Surely, all were so very glad as to turn back to the source of help and thank Jesus after they had been made clean. Alas! Nine did not; one came. You can't rely very much on people, if they are not humble in health and prosperity, that their pertinent feeling means much when in sorrow and sickness.

"Sadly Christ echoes the question, 'Were there not ten cleansed, where are the nine?' He looks to the communion altar, then remembers the many who had just bowed there, but still the searching cry is, 'Where are the nine?' Alas, so shall it be up by the Gate, the thousands of thousands shall enter Saints' Rest, but as they file in, Christ's sad reflection upon the multitudes who have not come or framed excuses, shall ever be 'Where are the nine?'

ditions to be observed as the basis of prosperity and in the possession of worldly substances, conditions that are too often lost sight of or ignored, and these facts were pointed out ably and forcibly by the minister.

A person should provide a comfortable home, plenty of raiment and food with his worldly substance and there should be intellectual development and growth of character.

Righteousness before God is an essential to prosperity. The substance of the wicked is cast away and their gains never satisfy them. They bring no joy or gratitude. Diligence is to be considered, as this is one of the first laws of God. The modern majesty consists of work.

THE CRUCIFIXION

Subject Of An Able Sermon By Dr.
Pratt At the M. E.
Church.

Part of the 31st chapter of St. Mark, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save," provided the text for the sermon of Rev. Dr. Pratt at the First Methodist church last evening. The minister gave his large congregation a beautiful word picture of the crucifixion of God's ambassador from the skies, the taunts of the Pharisees, whence come the words of the text, and the indifference of the Roman soldiers. The Romans, hardened to acts of cruelty, did not gloat over Christ's suffering but the Pharisees rejoiced with the hearts of hell.

Next Sunday an offering will be taken at the church for the support of aged ministers and the extension of the educational work of the denomination, in both the home and foreign field.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach well. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

He was carried to his home and after an examination his injuries were found to consist of a badly wrenched back and some bruises. He will be able to be about before long Rayman lectured to a large audience in the Second Presbyterian church in the absence of Rev. N. M. Crowe. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached very interesting sermons morning and evening, in the Erie street M. E. church.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

ANOTHER INJUNCTION AGAINST TRACK-LAYING

A Mahoning County Citizen Brings Suit Against the Y. & S. Railway.

Youngstown, August 10.—The most recent suit brought against the Youngstown & Southern Railway company is that of James W. Chambers plaintiff, through Attorney D. F. Griffith, alleging that the defendant was granted right of way through his property, south of the city, certain stipulations being made as to the location of the supposed track or tracks. When work was commenced it was discovered by Mr. Chambers that the indicated route was not being followed, the company crossing his land as it pleased and without reference to the agreement.

Thereupon the plaintiff sought relief at the hands of the court through a junction and a temporary restraining order was granted by Probate Judge J. Calvin Ewing.

Baccalaureate by Dr. Pratt.

Scio, August 10.—The exercises of the forty-fifth annual commencement of Scio college began yesterday, when the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. M. B. Pratt, D. D., of East Liverpool, and the annual sermon by Rev. C. B. Hollett, D. D. The oratory recital occurs this evening. The annual concert is scheduled for Tuesday evening, the trustees' meeting and literary societies' anniversary on Wednesday. Rev. C. B. Henthorne delivers the address to graduates on Thursday.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble.

Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Folic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief, and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

By this time, if the members of the city council have been thinking and reflecting, or if they have made the least effort to learn what the citizens of East Liverpool most desire, they have doubtless convinced themselves that to reduce the police force would be both impolitic and unpopular. The mayor's veto of the unreasonable and ill-advised ordinance exactly voices public sentiment. Will the members of council go on record as the servants of the people and obey the people's best, or will they boldly defy the popular will and stamp themselves as the foes of decency and good order? The time is near when they must register their answer.

One of the proposed amendments to the constitution of this state, which will be submitted to the people for adoption or rejection at the November election, abolishes the double liability to which stockholders are now liable. The argument in favor of this is, that more Ohio organizations will incorporate in this state, instead of going to other communities, which have more liberal laws, to obtain incorporation. It is the part of wisdom to keep these corporations at home.

Colonel William J. Bryan's latest favorite for the nomination on his side in 1904 is an Illinois man who was unknown until the colonel mentioned him. The North Carolina man whom Bryan brought out a month or two ago has dropped back into the oblivion from which he was pulled. The Illinois Bryanized personage may not have so far to fall, for he has not got out of the oblivion yet far enough to be discerned by the unaided eye.

President Roosevelt's letter on impress upon postoffice department thoughtful. The law's delay and the many devices now used for guarding the guilty against the consequences of crime are the first matters to be attended to by legislators, judges and people. Swift and certain punishment of the crimes that now provoke lynchings will remove the incentive to mob violence.

Tom Johnson is likely to be a dear experiment for Cleveland. The present bonded debt of that city is above $20,000,000, of which over a million has been added within the past seven months. The city debt is more than one-tenth of the total tax valuation. Yet Johnson is endeavoring to increase it.

Prof. Langley's airship made a successful trip, but not a successful descent, as it landed in the river. Darius Green encountered the same difficulty. "Flyin' is easy," said he; "the trouble is when you come to light."

Man-eating sharks have made their appearance at Atlantic City. The vacationists who spend their holidays at the sometimes ridiculed fresh water resorts are congratulating themselves.

Two shots were fired Sunday at the prime minister of France. It is time that the proposed international league for the suppression of anarchy be organized and get down to business.

The W. R. Hearst presidential boom is about to be launched. It will be treated, like W. R. Hearst's newspapers, as amusing, but not worthy of serious consideration.

A scientist estimates that there are seven hundred billion mosquitoes in existence. He must have based the calculation on observations made in New Jersey.

Gen. Miles will scarcely be content with the second place on the presidential ticket which his Democratic brethren are disposed to assign him.

No Republican is objecting to Tom Johnson as a Democratic candidate for governor. All the objections come from those more closely interested.

President Roosevelt is determined to impress upon postoffice department employees the truth that public office is not a private snap.

Tom Johnson is engaged in the difficult task of manufacturing a spontaneous enthusiasm for himself.

APPROPRIATED A COW AND GOT IN TROUBLE

SON AND MOTHER MIXED UP IN AN UGLY FIGHT.

Arrests and Informations Made and the End Not Yet Reached.

William Grim, who is one of the heirs of the late Sophia M. Goppert, is likely to become involved in a mudle that will cost him considerable money and perhaps his liberty.

Mrs. Kate Grim, mother of the young man, and George Goppert, brother of Mrs. Grim, are the executors of the estate, and when William Grim signified his intention of appropriating a cow which he claimed was his own, he was advised by both to let it alone as the estate had not been settled and he would get into trouble. He paid no attention to the warning and during the absence of Mrs. Grim in this city, went to Chester, took the cow from the stable and was leading it to this city. He was accompanied by his father-in-law, Thomas Beaver, and the party was met on the bridge by Mrs. William Mason, of New York city, who last week married at Steubenville, in the Lutheran church, the Rev. Dr. Bender officiating at the ceremony. Mrs. Mason is well known by a large circle of friends in this city.

Meantime Mrs. Grim and her son engaged in an argument which was so heated that the son finally struck his mother. Then Mrs. Grim proceeded to chastise her son. For a time the scene was interesting, but the battle was soon over, and Goppert was determined to have the alleged thief arrested. The police were summoned, but by the time they arrived both men and cow had disappeared.

Goppert and Mrs. Grim proceeded to city hall where they made information against Beaver for assault. He was brought in later and paid a fine of $8 for his part in the affair.

Young Grim in a spirit of resent-ment swore out a warrant against his mother, and she will be arraigned to-night. Mrs. Grim is not a strong woman and those who witnessed the trouble are indignant over the son's treatment of his mother.

COAL DEPOSIT FOUND OF FINE QUALITY

Valuable Discovery Made at Long's Crossing—Land to Be Leased.

Salem, August 10.—Drillers em-ployed by Cleveland and Youngstown capitalists who have been sinking a hole on the Michael Muntz farm, near Long's Crossing, struck a four foot vein of block coal at a depth of 130 feet.

The coal found is especially valuable and will be used in Cleveland and other points for manufacture of artificial gas. In the same territory there is a No. 3 vein of the same mineral and the prospects of finding a paying quantity are encouraging. It is the intention of the capitalists to lease 300 acres of land in that vicinity. The contract made by the capitalists with the owners of the land in that vicinity provides that the land is to be tested before leased.

The parties interested in the development of the territory are well satisfied with the coal found and will continue with the hope of securing better deposits of the black diamonds.

RED PEPPER USED TO FIGHT SHOWMEN

An Ex-Policeman of Wellsville Narrowly Escaped Rough Treatment.

Wellsburg, W. Va., August 10.—Frank Tierman, a former policeman, evidently had a grudge against the Keystone Carnival company, which has been exhibiting here. At least his actions indicated this, as he had been heard to boast, it is said, that he would "run" the company out of town.

Saturday night he proceeded to carry out his threat. Armed with a quantity of red pepper, it is alleged, he started after the employees of the company and distributed the pepper so judiciously that the employees and a number of bystanders received it in their eyes. One of the showmen received such a heavy dose that cocaine had to be administered to relieve his sufferings.

The crowd started after Tierman, and it was only through the activity of the police that he escaped rough treatment. He was landed in the lock-up after considerable trouble, and is being held there without bail.

PRESIDENT PASSES QUIET DAY

Charles P. McClelland Likely to Be Appointed on New York Board of Appraisers.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 10.—President Roosevelt passed the day quietly at Sagamore Hill with Ambassador Von Sternburg and members of his family. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children attended services at Christ church in the morning.

The president read in the newspaper that he had prevented several hundred children from having an outing in the White House grounds at Washington because the color line had been drawn by the managers of the affair. It was stated that an appeal had been made to him to withdraw his objections to the use of the grounds for the picnic, but that he had paid no attention to it. As a matter of fact, the president knows nothing of the matter except what he read in the papers and had not heard of it.

As a matter of custom the White House grounds are not opened for children's outings except on Easter Monday, when the annual egg rolling usually occurs. If an application were made for the opening of the grounds at any other time it would be a matter of routine which probably would not reach the president in any event. It did not reach him in this case.

It is understood to be likely that the president may appoint Charles P. McClelland, a senator of the Twenty-second New York district, to a position on the board of general appraisers. Under the law the appointee must be a Democrat. Senator McClelland has influential support for the appointment.

BOOKWALTER TAKEN UP BY THE JOHNSON FACTION AS SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

He Is a Millionaire and the Democracy Would Like to See Him In
the Race.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 10.—The Johnson wing has discarded John J. Lentz, of Columbus, and taken up John W. Bookwalter, of Springfield, for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Bookwalter has not been in politics since 1881, when, as the candidate of the Democracy for governor, he was defeated by Charles Foster, Republican, by a plurality of 25,000. He is a millionaire and a liberal contributor to the campaign fund. The Johnson people will center on him to weaken the candidacy of John L. Zimmerman, both being from the same city. The convention would not stand for nominations for the two highest places going to any one city, and the Johnson people realize that if they can secure the convention's endorsement of Bookwalter for the senatorship that Zimmerman will be shut out of the nomination for governor. Tom Johnson is determined to have that gubernatorial nomination and his lieutenants are leaving nothing undone to bring this about. The Ohio Democracy is in the throes of one of the bitterest factional fights it has had on hand for many years. Arrayed on one side are the Johnson forces and on the other the conservatives who are for Zimmerman.

Carrie Nation, the erstwhile joint smasher, sets high value upon herself as an attraction. Her manager has written the state board of agriculture stating that if that body will pay the redoubtable Carrie Nation $200 she will deliver a lecture at the approaching state fair. The board concluded she was not a desideratum and rejected the proposition.

Hon. W. S. McKinnon, of Ashtabula, has fixed August 20-22 as the time and Cedar Point as the place for the annual reunion of the general assembly and its attaches. Captain John Maynard, reading clerk, is now sending out notices and invitations of the event to all members, legislative attaches, legislative correspondents and state officials and urging their pres-

manufacturers it was with the request that the union might receive an answer in time to make the scale operative on August 10. In the majority of instances this was done and at a number of factories in the city the new agreement now prevails. In the case of the pottery manufacturers, however, a misunderstanding occurred and instead of addressing their request to the Potters' association the individual factory owners were notified. The error was not discovered in time to avoid delay and it will probably be several days before the matter is wound up.

As soon as the mistake was noticed the officers of the union hastened to rectify it, and late last week received an answer from the secretary of the association. It now appears that the manufacturers were also laboring under a misapprehension with regard to the steam engineers' union, as they had the impression that when they came to an agreement with the Brotherhood it would adjust the differences in all branches of the mechanical department. As a matter of fact the engineers are an entirely separate organization and have nothing in common with the operative potters, save that the running of the engines is an essential to the successful operation of all factories.

The regular meeting of the Potters' association will be held on tomorrow evening, and until then nothing can be done toward obtaining the signatures of the manufacturing potters to the scale.

ASSAULT IS CHARGED BY MRS. GIRARD

Alleges That Mrs. Johannes Laid Violent Hands Upon Her.

Mrs. Joseph Girard, wife of a Walnut street saloonist, swore out a warrant at noon before the mayor, for the arrest of Mrs. John Johannes, charging her with assault.

Mrs. Girard, it is said, had been accused of being too friendly to Johannes, and going to the home of the latter to make inquiry, she was assaulted. The hearing will be held this evening.

It was the aim of the officers and members in compiling the scale to refrain from including a single clause which might be obnoxious to the employers. The association devoted considerable time to the task of striking averages and making inquiries with the object in view of making the working conditions similar both as to hours and wages throughout its jurisdiction. When their committees reported, and the new scale had been approved by the international union it was presented to the factory owners in the following form:

This agreement is made between the International Union of Steam Engineers' Local No. 169, of East Liverpool, O., and all corporations and firms employing licensed steam engineers.

Section 1.—That the minimum wages shall be $2.50 per day's work.

Section 2.—That the hours and conditions remain in all plants as at present established.

Section 3.—This agreement to take effect August 10, 1903, and to remain in force one year from date.

ITALIAN BOY DROWNED AT WELLSVILLE YESTERDAY.

Sank From Sight In Full View of Companions—Body Not Recovered.

Startled by a despairing cry for help, the companions of Nicola Dinnizio, an Italian boy, aged 18 years, turned just in time to see him sink beneath the waters of the Ohio, near the pier opposite the rolling mill in Wellsville. The boys, most of whom were Italians, had been enjoying a Sunday afternoon swim, and Dinnizio, more daring than the others, had swum considerable distance from the pier. He either became exhausted or was seized with a cramp and sank before help could reach him.

A search for the body was immediately instituted by a party of fishermen and men from the rolling mill and it was continued throughout the night and today without success. Both grappling hooks and dynamite were used.

Dinnizio had been in this country little more than a year and lived with Nicola Solyana, his brother-in-law, on Third street.

HEIDRICK PROMISES TO BEHAVE BETTER

Released from Jail He Agrees to Care for His Wife And Children.

Walter Heidrick was released from the city jail this morning, and accompanied by his wife and children left the city hall resolved to begin all over again.

Heidrick, who has experienced a revolution of feeling since getting away from the Early woman, is determined to do the right thing and his wife is very happy in consequence. He states that the Early girl has communicated with him and promises to shoot him on sight. He believes she is bluffing and will pay no attention to the threat. Heidrick maintains that he was not to blame for the trouble, as he says the girl was continually hanging about and it was impossible to keep out of her way.

Mrs. Heidrick's brother is much disturbed over the reports that there were none to offer his sister shelter or a home. He says she is welcome at his home at all times.

FELL INTO THE RIVER IN A FIT OF DIZZINESS

Narrow Escape of a Camper Who Was Upset from a Boat.

James Ackerman, a prominent Pittsburgher, who spent Sunday with the campers opposite Line island, fell into the river from a boat yesterday afternoon and was rescued with some difficulty by his companions. Fortunately the water was shallow at the spot or the mishap might have terminated fatally.

Mr. Ackerman was seized with a spell of dizziness and could do nothing to help himself.

A $1,000 Note in Dispute.

Lisbon, August 10.—(Special)—Robert Campbell is plaintiff in a suit against W. S. Potts, as administrator of the estate of John Matthews. He avers that, on June 17, 1897, John Matthews delivered to Charles Matthews his promissory note for $1,000, made July 15, 1890. Robert Campbell then purchased the note and claims no part of it has been paid. The administrator has entirely rejected the claim. The plaintiff asks interest and cost.

NUMEROUS WILD DOGS ALARMING THE FARMERS

The farmers about three miles back of Chester are becoming alarmed over the increase in the number of wild dogs in that part of the country. The dogs are extremely ferocious and on account of their depredations last winter, John Wesley Johnston, Edward Hadley, William C. Allison and others of the farmers intend organizing a party for the purpose of exterminating the species.

The first of the wild dogs to make its appearance was about eight years ago, and was first seen by Bill Allison while going from his house to the barn. He called the animal which paid no attention to his call, but fled with the speed of the wind from him, disappearing in a thicket. The wild animal has put in his appearance regularly

Began Early in the Morning With a Raid Upon a Saloon.

M'DERMOTT'S GREAT LUCK

Three Prisoners Landed Without the Necessity of Hunting for Them. Other Arrests for Various Offenses Increase the Total.

There was unusual activity in police circles on Saturday night and Sunday, and at noon yesterday the total number of offenders gathered in being 10. There were an unusually large number of people on the streets Saturday night and it was quite late before the officers were permitted to look up lawbreakers on the edges. At a little after 1 o'clock Chief Wyman and Officers Dawson and Saulsbury were on Second street, and from their observation concluded there was something doing at the saloon of Jimmie Larkins, near the passenger station. The officers made their way to the rear and succeeded in gaining an entrance.

The proprietor and four men were in the saloon and they were surprised when the officers made their appearance. The saloonist was ordered to appear before the mayor today and the four men caught in the place were brought to the city hall, where it was intended that they should stay until the mayor saw fit to give them a hearing. The unfortunate individuals captured in the saloons gave their names as Hugh Morris, Walter Shay, John Burke and Philip Brannon. The authorities are of the opinion that the men gave their right names, which is unusual under such circumstances. Shay had money and gave security for the appearance of Morris and himself on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The others were locked up. The charge against the proprietor of the place will be that of keeping his saloon open on Sunday and he will be prosecuted under the state law.

While the party was on its way from the Larkins saloon to city hall Officer Dawson encountered Elijah Cain, who was very drunk and acting in a disgusting and indecent manner. He was picked up and made to join the procession. Elijah is a man of poor judgment when it comes to handling booze, and he has been in trouble many times.

Officer McDermott had a great streak of luck yesterday morning. He had his favorite beat on Smoky and was in the vicinity of the National House when he heard a commotion near Walnut street. When he arrived on the scene K. P. Beatty, who resides in that vicinity, was in the act of throwing two drunks over the fence. The men had been leaning against the fence, and being very drunk they both lost their balance and fell over into the yard. Mr. Beatty's dogs attacked the drunks, and it would doubtless have fared badly with them had not the owner appeared. The patrol was summoned and the men were taken to jail. They gave their names as James Daugherty and William Cassidy, and said they were employed by Contractor Sims.

McDermott had a suspicion that there were more of the crowd and it was well founded, for a few minutes later he discovered Dan Collins at the rear of the old gas house. Dan was paralyzed and it was necessary to carry him to the patrol, which had turned about and came directly to the spot. All three of the men are railroad la-

FROM PITTSBURG TO CLEVELAND

PROPOSED TRACTION LINES
DOWN THE OHIO RIVER.

Will Join the Beaver Valley and New Castle Systems With Ohio Lines.

Charters have been granted at Harrisburg to two traction companies which propose to build important links in the trolley system connecting Pittsburgh with the Beaver valley. The officers of both companies are Philadelphia capitalists, and the promoters of the entire line ostensibly Philadelphians, but it is believed that they are the same men who were reported to be interested with Murry A. Verner and other Pittsburghers in the development of the traction facilities of the territory between New Castle and Pittsburgh.

The two companies will construct 13 miles of trolley roads between Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca. Interests identified with the same project are connected with the Beaver Valley Traction company, which now operates 35 miles of traction lines in western Pennsylvania. The work of construction will begin early in the fall.

The charters were as follows: To the Coraopolis & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build five miles of road, beginning on the public highway in Shousetown, Crescent township, Allegheny county, and extending through Shousetown, Stoop's Ferry and Coraopolis. The capital is $30,000; president, William Redwood Wright, of Philadelphia.

To the Monaca & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build 10 miles of road, beginning at Monaca Beaver county, and extending through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa. The capital is $60,000; president, William Redwood Wright of Philadelphia. The directors, all Philadelphians, are W. Frederick Snyder and Walter T. Bilyeu.

In discussing the new charters and the proposed plans of the company W. Frederick Snyder, of Philadelphia said:

"The lines now operated by the Beaver Valley Traction company start 18 miles north of Pittsburgh, run through 15 different boroughs and to a point 14 miles from New Castle. So prosperous has been the business of the company during the past year, the gross earnings having increased about 124 per cent, that the directors decided to extend the system through Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca, the latter being to connect Pittsburgh and New Castle. To that end the new lines were chartered and construction work will begin in the fall. The contract for the work has been awarded to A. H. Engstrom, a Philadelphia constructing engineer."

CASES OF DIPHTHERIA EXCITING ALARM

Uncasiness Felt Over the Prevalence of the Disease at Gavers.

Lisbon, August 10.—(Special)—The death of Jessie Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crawford, of Gavers, of diphtheria, the sickness of a younger child and subsequent quarantine of the family, has aroused considerable excitement in that community. The family of Andrew McDevitt is also quarantined because of the illness of Mrs. McDevitt, suspected to be diphtheria. The family of George Williams, who has been exposed to the disease, is also quarantined.

Reports today have it that all the patients are improving and no fear is entertained of the disease spreading.

RURAL CARRIER

Candidates for the Position Now Vacant Will Be Examined Here.

A special examiner from the post office department at Washington will arrive in the city tomorrow evening to examine candidates for the position of carrier on the rural free delivery route leading from this city, to succeed Francis M. Aiken, who has resigned.

Applicants are requested to inquire at the postoffice for further information.

siderable filling will be necessary and dirt from the hill, which obstructs the proposed line of the new tracks, will be utilized. The character of the ground is such that scrapers can be used to advantage. The time necessary for the completion of the grade has not been given out, but it is understood that the work is to go forward as rapidly as possible.

With this improvement the congestion which has hindered traffic on the road will be relieved and the additional yardage will fit in nicely with the increased facilities occasioned by the double tracking. The C. & P. is one of the greatest freight carrying roads in the country and will be in position when the improvements are finished to maintain this supremacy. That portion of its track between this city and Yellow creek junction has long been inadequate to handle all the trains with proper despatch and passengers have been continually annoyed with long delays between the points named. The extension of the Wellsville yards is calculated to relieve the situation.

COUNTY REUNION

OF SONS OF VETERANS

BIG GATHERING TO BE HELD AT SHELTON'S GROVE.

All the Camps in the County to Take Part—The Date August 19.

The members of the order of Sons of Veterans of Columbiana county will hold their first annual reunion Wednesday, August 19, at Shelton's grove, in the northern part of the county. It is expected that the attendance will be very large.

Several months ago the movement was started by the members of General Garfield camp of this city and the camp of Salem. A committee representing both organizations was appointed and have been at work ever since. The date was decided upon some time ago and the grove engaged for the occasion. The committee has arranged a program which promises to be entertaining.

Arrangements will be made when the camps of the county get together for the formation of a county organization. Representatives will be present from Salem, East Palestine, Wellsville, Lisbon and East Liverpool. It will be the aim of the new association to assist in the formation of new camps and to give the state and national officers all the aid possible. It is also proposed to keep up the reunion plan, and during the month of August of each year the meeting will be held.

The order has grown materially in Columbiana county since the division headquarters were established in East Liverpool, and Colonel J. J. Rose with his efficient staff has been unusually successful. Interested parties in a number of localities throughout the county have begun an agitation for the institution of new camps, and it is confidently expected that with in a year several organizations will have been added to the Ohio division.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

While general confidence is expressed in the crockery line that the fall trade will be up to, if not better than it was a year ago, there is as yet but little activity in the local warerooms. Of course, business is slowly but surely improving a little every day, but buyers are not here in such large numbers as had generally been looked for, says the New York Commercial. Even the salesmen who are now on the road have not yet sent in many orders, but they report general conditions as good, so that it is only a question of time when the trade will come in.

In anticipation of the movement which is expected to begin soon, the potteries of Trenton are already getting goods in readiness for display and shipment. The movement in both foreign and domestic goods is as yet quite dull, but seasonable and about on a par with the business effected a year ago.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.

It is stated that the West End Pottery company are about to make some more improvements around their works. They are to have a new water-main leading to the plant, to further its protection in case of fire, and new buildings for sagger house room, etc., will be erected immediately. The company will also install almost an entirely new outfit of machinery in this department of their works, which will facilitate matters greatly around the same. The pottery has five kilns now, which increases their capacity almost 100 per cent, and with these improvements the plant is capable of turning out almost twice as much ware as formerly.

DINOSAURS AND LOVE

The Prelude to a Romance—A Wedding to Follow in the Fall.

New York, August 10.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth ——, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of a prominent Harvard professor, and Mr. —— of New York, is the climax of a pretty romance as ever novelist conceived. This announcement follows closely that of the important discovery as to the habits of the Dinosaur. Indeed, this ancient animal might be said to be at the foundation of the love-making which has resulted in the announcement of the engagement. The story is intensely interesting.

The professor arrived in New York early in April. As his investigations were pursued in the American Museum of Natural History, he sought convenient and suitable quarters in the neighborhood of that magnificent institution. His friend, Judge Isham, suggested the Hotel Majestic, situated on five blocks distant at Seventy-Second street and Central Park, West, and there it was the professor found great accommodations. Indeed, so delighted was he with his surroundings that he wrote for his daughter to come to New York. Needless to say, she came, and it was there she met a well known member of the swell set. So it came about that while the professor was delving among the bones of ancient Dinosaurs at the museum, his daughter and the young New Yorker played the ancient and highly delectable game of love.

The summer season at the Majestic opens in June, when the roof garden becomes the favorite dining place, and the introduction of the professor and his daughter to the delights of the Palm Garden on the roof of the hotel prompted him to write to his wife the following letter in which he hints at the love affair, which was already engaging the attention of his daughter. He wrote:

"You have no idea how Elizabeth and I are enjoying ourselves, and how grateful I am to Judge Isham for suggesting the Majestic. Last evening Judge Isham, Mrs. Isham and Miss Isham took dinner with Elizabeth and me in the Palm Garden, a delightful retreat on the roof high above the street, lighted by myriad colored electric lights. The views from this garden are beautifully, especially after the darkness comes and the electric lights glow in every quarter. I would describe the dinner if I could, but perhaps the enclosed menu will present the feast more eloquently to your trained eye. Cookery will always be a mystery to me:

Menu of the Professor's dinner:
Canape Panaches.
Tortue Verte Amontillado.
Hors d'oeuvres Varies.
Homard saute' a l'Americaine.
Ris de Veau sous cloche a l'Eugenie.
Pigeonneaux DeSoisses.
Tomates en Surprise.
Madelaine aux Marrons.
Petit fours.
Gloria.

"I think I have neglected to mention in my previous letters about the young man from whom Elizabeth has been receiving some attention. He comes of a most excellent New York family, and is possessed of much wealth. He is an agreeable young man, a graduate of Yale '93, and a great admirer of Professor Brown, my old friend, under whom he took his M. A. degree. Really, I quite approve of him as a possible son-in-law.

"Now, I know just what you will want to do when you read this. You will decide promptly that it is your duty to come to New York and chaperone Elizabeth. We both want you to come, but not for that reason. After you have been here for a few days you will learn that there is no occasion for fear about Elizabeth. The fact is while here, she needs no chaperon. With her bringing up and the refinement and perfectly un-hotel-like atmosphere of the Majestic (if you will permit me my favorite amusement of coining words) she is as safe here as under your eye at home. The Majestic is really unique as a hotel. I find it more like a sumptuous home. The service is as perfect as modern appliances and the high-bred courtesy of its officers can make it. I have met a number of polished people here who are in the habit of spending a month or more every summer at the Majestic, and they all tell me that the hotel is absolutely devoid of anything of a fast nature, and that they never hesitate to leave wife or daughter here when occasion requires their presence elsewhere.

Another unique thing about the Majestic—there has never been the breath of scandal here. I wish you would tell Colonel B. this for me. He asked me to look up a hotel where he can bring his daughter next winter. Tell him they make it enjoyable here for young people.

"Don't imagine from all I have told you of the social side of life here that one is constantly in the social current. One may be a perfect recluse if he wants to be. I heard a good story yesterday of two ladies who met and became greatly attached to each other in Los Angeles, and who discovered, to their mutual surprise, that they both had been living at the Majestic ever since it was opened. The social element is here to enjoy, if you care for it; but there is no compulsion about it. So I have about decided to leave Elizabeth here when I go to Massachusetts next week to examine a recent find of fossils near Medfield. She will be in good hands, especially as Mrs. Willing and Mrs. Dumont are here, as well as a number of other people whom you know.

"They have such delightful concerts every evening at the hotel that both Elizabeth and I are content to seek a quiet corner of the grand foyer and listen to the music. The leader of the orchestra is a cello soloist of note and his orchestra is perfection.

"The foyer is the center of the social life of the hotel. Here ladies and gentlemen sit and chat and receive their friends. Here the orchestra plays its evening concert, excepting on warm evenings, when it transfers its melodies to the roof garden.

"Of course, it goes without saying that the appointments, the cuisine and the service are perfect. But it is the tangible air of refinement that appeals to me. There is no restraint save that imposed by one's good breeding. And there is nothing of the shoddy in guests or garnishments. Everything is in exquisite taste.

"Elizabeth is wild over the shopping. We run down on the elevated or the trolleys, which we take a block from the hotel. It takes only about 15 minutes to reach the shops.

"I am sending you an illustrated booklet, which will give you a faint idea of the beauty of the Grand Foyer the Pompeian Cafe, the Empire Dining Salon, the Winter Garden and Palm Garden on the Roof and a number of other picturesque features of the Majestic."

PATENT ENDANGERS
RURAL CARRIERS JOB

A Western Man's Invention to Deliver and Collect Mail Mechanically.

Nelson S. Howell, of Cumming, Madison county, has a working model 80 rods long of an automatic mail delivery and collection apparatus, which is built according to a device he recently patented and is working satisfactorily, says a Red Oak, (Ia.) telegram. It is designed especially for rural mail service, supplanting carriers, but seems to be capable of development to an extent that would do away with many of the country post offices and centralize the handling of mail to a great extent, expediting the service, reducing the number of carriers and clerks and greatly reducing expenses.

The apparatus consists of an endless cable, carried on poles and delivering and collecting mail by clockwork. The cable in a line 30 miles long can be operated by a 1/2 horse power gasoline engine, and the cable can be operated at a speed which will permit as many deliveries in a day as are desired. The power is supplied by a drum. The deliveries are regulated automatically.

For instance, if there are 50 patrons on the endless chain route, the mail pouch of No. 1 drops at his mail box, while the other 49 pouches are carried on, each dropping at its respective place. The collections are all made automatically. The apparatus is not intricate and does not readily get out of order.

It is claimed that the general use of this system by the government will not only reduce the cost of the rural mail service to a minimum, but will bring to every resident of the country, instead of a favored few, the modern convenience of a daily mail delivery. The establishing of a cable-carrying plant in a county seat would be sufficient for the entire county.

It would simplify the work of the railway mail clerks enormously if they were required to throw mail only to the county seats. In Iowa, for instance, there are 91 county seats and 2,500 post offices.

CHRIST THE FRIEND OF THE SUFFERER

Jesus Proved Himself Willing To Aid Even the Despised
Leper.

HIS CHARITY IS BROAD

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of St. John's Lutheran church, preached to a large congregation last night, taking as his text, "And Jesus said, 'Were there not ten cleansed? Where are the nine?'" He said in part:

"In a little town of Samaria stand two lepers afar off. Look at that isolated group of unfortunates and thank God that you have not that disease among you. The leper was shut out from home and society and outside of the wall of the city he lived in a solitary camp. Others could worship and offer sacrifices in the house of Christ, but no high priest went within the walls of the poor leper. But Jesus passed on his way to the feast at Jerusalem. What a contrast in His bearing toward the leper! The healer of all diseases, the comforter of all that are in distress, has a look of love and pity and a bearing of power.

"No friend sympathizes so tenderly with his friend in affliction as does Jesus. In all our afflictions, He is afflicted. He feels all our sorrows. Whence it is that the sufferings of believers are called the sufferings of Christ? His righteousness is over you, His strong arm is around you and he who puts his soul in Christ's keeping shall never perish nor come into condemnation. This is our friend in need and our friend in deed.

"Those ten lepers who had despaired of all other help now cried, 'Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.' Unlike all Jewish practice, Jesus had mercy and He healed them. Blessed Master, we are all lepers, and whilst the self-righteousness will starve us because of sin, thou dost pity, touch and heal our unrighteousness. None, Jesus, one Samaritan. Nine are of Jesus' people and one is not. Are there more of God's chosen afflicted than of the worlding? You think that none who are born of the household of faith ought to have temptations, troubles and afflictions. But when they sin, the greater is their responsibility, the quicker is their punishment. 'Have mercy on us.' Yes, they felt that there was guilt and judgment connected with their misery. All suffering is of sin. You must remove sin to remove suffering.

"Surely, all were so very glad as to turn back to the source of help and thank Jesus after they had been made clean. Alas! Nine did not; one came. You can't very much on people, if they are not humble in health and prosperity, that their permanent feeling means much when in sorrow and sickness.

"Sadly Christ echoes the question, 'Were there not ten cleansed, where are the nine?' He looks to the communion altar, then remembers the many who had just bowed there, but still the searching cry is, 'Where are the nine?' Alas, so shall it be up by the Gate, the thousands of thousands shall enter Saints' Rest, but as they file in, Christ's sad reflection upon the multitudes who have not come or framed excuses, shall ever be 'Where are the nine?'

NEED OF MORE FAITH

Forcibly Painted Out in a Sermon By Rev. E. H. Maloney at St. Stephens'.

Rev. E. H. Maloney, at St. Stephens' church, preached from the text, "The Rock Was Christ" at the service last evening. The lesson drawn was the need of greater faith in the church of God and in Jesus Christ, the founder of the church. The church of God is a great society and Jesus Christ is its head and leading representative. Christ, through the assistance of the Father, founded the church of the living God on earth and He placed the apostles at its head for they had been trained in the spiritual needs of the people. Money, people and a form of worship do not constitute a church. God's church as a defined institution.

We can do no good without God. Religion has not been forced upon us, but it was ordained by God. Let us, through the church, draw near to God and receive the inspiration and grace that is required for righteous Christian living.

ditions to be observed as the basis of prosperity and in the possession of worldly substances, conditions that are too often lost sight of or ignored, and these facts were pointed out ably and forcibly by the minister.

A person should provide a comfortable home, plenty of raiment and food with his worldly substance and there should be intellectual development and growth of character.

Righteousness before God is an essential to prosperity. The substance of the wicked is cast away and their gains never satisfy them. They bring no joy or gratitude. Diligence is to be considered, as this is one of the first laws of God. The modern majesty consists of work.

Subject of An Able Sermon By Dr. Pratt At the M. E. Church.

Part of the 31st chapter of St. Mark, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save," provided the text for the sermon of Rev. Dr. Pratt at the First Methodist church last evening. The minister gave his large congregation a beautiful word picture of the crucifixion of God's ambassador from the skies, the taunts of the Pharisees whence come the words of the text, and the indifference of the Roman soldiers. The Romans, hardened to acts of cruelty, did not gloat over Christ's suffering but the Pharisees rejoiced with the hearts of hell.

Next Sunday an offering will be taken at the church for the support of aged ministers and the extension of the educational work of the denominations, in both the home and foreign field.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach well. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

With a Serious
Mishap.

Reed Hanna, 14 years old, residing on Erie street, is improved considerably, after a fall from a height of about 15 feet. Young Hanna, with Everett Short, were enjoying themselves Saturday in Thompson park, in climbing apple trees. When near the top of one of the trees a limb on which young Hanna was standing broke and precipitated him to the ground.

The boy was unable to arise and his companion hurried to the East End for assistance. The party went to where the boy was lying on the ground unable to walk. He was carried to his home and after an examination his injuries were found to consist of a badly wrenched back and some bruises. He will be able to be about before long.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

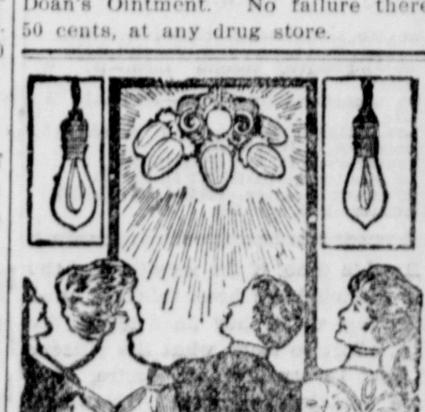

ANOTHER INJUNCTION AGAINST TRACK-LAYING

A Mahoning County Citizen Brings Suit Against the Y. & S. Railway.

Youngstown, August 10.—The most recent suit brought against the Youngstown & Southern Railway company is that of James W. Chambers plaintiff, through Attorney D. F. Griffith, alleging that the defendant was granted right of way through his property, south of the city, certain stipulations being made as to the location of the supposed track or tracks. When work was commenced it was discovered by Mr. Chambers that the indicated route was not being followed, the company crossing his land as it pleased and without reference to the agreement.

Thereupon the plaintiff sought relief at the hands of the court through a junction and a temporary restraining order was granted by Probate Judge J. Calvin Ewing.

By this time, if the members of the city council have been thinking and reflecting, or if they have made the least effort to learn what the citizens of East Liverpool most desire, they have doubtless convinced themselves that to reduce the police force would be both impolitic and unpopular. The mayor's veto of the unreasonable and ill-advised ordinance exactly voices public sentiment. Will the members of council go on record as the servants of the people and obey the people's behest, or will they boldly defy the popular will and stamp themselves as the foes of decency and good order? The time is near when they must register their answer.

One of the proposed amendments to the constitution of this state, which will be submitted to the people for adoption or rejection at the November election, abolishes the double liability to which stockholders are now liable. The argument in favor of this is, that more Ohio organizations will incorporate in this state, instead of going to other communities, which have more liberal laws, to obtain incorporation. It is the part of wisdom to keep these corporations at home.

Colonel William J. Bryan's latest favorite for the nomination on his side in 1904 is an Illinois man who was unknown until the colonel mentioned him. The North Carolina man whom Bryan brought out a month or two ago has dropped back into the oblivion from which he was pulled. The Illinois Bryanian personage may not have far to fall, for he has not got out of the oblivion yet far enough to be discerned by the unaided eye.

President Roosevelt's letter on impress upon postoffice department eminently thoughtful. The law's delay and the many devices now used for guarding the guilty against the consequences of crime are the first matters to be attended to by legislators, judges and people. Swift and certain punishment of the crimes that now provoke lynchings will remove the incentive to mob violence.

Tom Johnson is likely to be a dear experiment for Cleveland. The present bonded debt of that city is above $20,000,000, of which over a million has been added within the past seven months. The city debt is more than one-tenth of the total tax valuation. Yet Johnson is endeavoring to increase it.

Prof. Langley's airship made a successful trip, but not a successful descent, as it landed in the river. Daniels Green encountered the same difficulty. "Flyin' is easy," said he; "the trouble is when you come to 'light'."

Man-eating sharks have made their appearance at Atlantic City. The vacationists who spend their holidays at the sometimes ridiculed fresh water resorts are congratulating themselves.

Two shots were fired Sunday at the prime minister of France. It is time that the proposed international league for the suppression of anarchy be organized and get down to business.

The W. R. Hearst presidential boom is about to be launched. It will be treated, like W. R. Hearst's newspapers, as amusing, but not worthy of serious consideration.

A scientist estimates that there are seven hundred million mosquitoes in existence. He must have based the calculation on observations made in New Jersey.

Gen. Miles will scarcely be content with the second place on the presidential ticket which his Democratic brethren are disposed to assign him.

No Republican is objecting to Tom Johnson as a Democratic candidate for governor. All the objections come from those more closely interested.

President Roosevelt is determined to impress upon postoffice department employees the truth that public office is not a private snap.

Tom Johnson is engaged in the difficult task of manufacturing a spontaneous enthusiasm for himself.

At the morning service, which was held beginning at 10:45 o'clock, a very interesting program of exercises was given, including music by the Jubilee Singers of Kentucky, which was very fine. Another program was given in the afternoon at a service held at 2:30.

In the evening at the regular service, Rev. Dr. Bundy, of Cleveland, who is the presiding elder of the district, delivered a very eloquent sermon, after which he administered the sacrament.

Funeral of Elsie Rogers.

A FLESH-FORMING FOOD

If Mi-o-na Does Not Build Up Good, Healthy Flesh Will Reed Will Return Your Money.

Of all the remedies in Will Reed's popular drug store, there are very few he is willing to sell with a guarantee to refund the money if they do not give satisfaction.

Mi-o-na, the famous flesh-forming food and cure for stomach troubles, has done such wonders among his customers that he is now advertising "If Mi-o-na does not give a noticeable gain in weight, if it fails to cure indigestion and all stomach troubles, come back to my store and get your money."

Any one who has been losing flesh or who has always been too thin, should use Mi-o-na. Thinness and emaciation are signs that the food is not properly assimilated and that you do not get the nourishment you should.

Mi-o-na mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition; it saves the digestive organs from exhaustive work. By its use the elements needed to put flesh on your bones will be selected from the food, and each day will show a noticeable gain in weight.

Commence the use of Mi-o-na today at Will Reed's risk. If it increases your weight and cures you of indigestion, it will cost you 50 cents, if it does not, Will Reed will pay for the treatment himself and return your money.

He went to the paymaster's office at Wilmerding and giving the name of another employee, obtained his wages.

Of a Second Robbery, Even the Pistol Relied Upon for Protection Stolen.

The Italians living in a shanty near the railroad trestle on the Melvin Gardner property are having extreme hard luck. A short time ago the place was entered by two men who secured some money and gave one of the Italians a terrible beating. After this incident, the Italians invested in a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver for their protection. Friday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock, the shanty was again entered into during the absence of the men, who work in the mill, and the revolver, a watch and chain and numerous other articles were taken. A small amount of money that was concealed in a back room was over looked.

The many cases of petty thieving about the town reported to the police are credited to some one living in the town, as the police have been watching closely and state that no suspicious strangers have been noticed of late.

Having made a thorough canvass of the city in the attempt to secure handouts, and after panhandling everyone he met on the street, Charley McGavern made his appearance at the city hall yesterday afternoon, and demanded "two bits" from Chief of Police Wyman. The chief had the money, but had never spent any for booze himself and did not propose to give Charley any for that purpose. McGavern had been drinking and he showed the effects plainly. It developed that he had been begging and it was thought best to place him where he would not be likely to annoy any one. He is still in jail.

Waterbury, Conn., Aug. 10.—The strike of trolley men, which began 33 weeks ago, was settled, the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company agreeing to take back part of the strikers at once at the old wages, to give employment to the others as soon as practicable and to treat with a committee from the union regarding future grievances. The announcement of the settlement led to a general public demonstration of joy throughout the city, and the excitement which prevailed was almost equal to that which attended the riot early in the strike which led to the calling out of the state militia.

The Riverside hospital, where Mr. Gill is, was called and the attending physician stated that at present there was no danger of blood poisoning setting in and that the patient was getting along nicely, but would be confined to the care of physicians for some time.

 Morg Winters reappeared as a slab artist at the Saturday afternoon matinee and occupied the center of the stage during the entire game. The last time Morg essayed to pitch he was sent to the tall grass before the game was two innings old, but Saturday he was there with his footers and puzlers, also his whitewash brush, and his batting eye.
Only twice did Canonsburg show any ability to make the circuit, in the second when Lauderbaugh was nailed at the very gate of the promised land on a relay from Maley to Brown to Emmerling, and in the ninth when Ramsay's grasser eluded both Webb and Rearn. The visitors could not find Morg for consecutive safeties, their five being scattered in as many innings. Not one of them was given free transportation to first.
Winters had almost perfect support, the only miscue coming in the second when Heckathorn muffed Brown's poor throw of Lauderbaugh's easy grounder. If the team puts up as good a fielding game against the Ohio Works and Niles teams this week the visitors will experience victory famine at West End park.
The game was several hundred percent better than the opener on Friday, and the visitors cut their error list from 13 to 3. Eastley, who did the twirling for them, settled down after the third and was giving Winters a good argument for the honors of the slab department. The second and third for the locals with a cluster of five hits and errors by Irwin and Fritz netted a half dozen runs, the entire crop for the game.

THE POTTERS' DRUG STORE GUARANTEES IT

Selling Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific at Half Price, and Guaranteeing a Cure.

Wherever there is no taint of incurable disease in the blood to complicate the case, Dr. Howard's Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia will cure those diseases.

The Potters' Drug store, the popular druggist, is so confident of this that it will give its personal guarantee with every package of the specific it sells, to refund the money if it does not cure.

To induce the people of East Liverpool and other neighboring towns to try this wonderful remedy, it is making a special introductory offer of a regular 50 cent bottle, containing sixty doses, at half price, 25 cents. And with every bottle goes its guarantee to refund the money if the remedy does not cure.

Dr. Howard's Specific is not a "cure all." But it is the one remedy you need if you suffer with constipation, indigestion, headaches or any disorder of the stomach and bowels. Mr. W. S. Green, a well known business man of Crown Point, N. Y., wrote the following letter very recently: "Nearly ten years ago I was a mere shadow, and, according to the judgment of quite a number of doctors, my end was in sight. My troubles reduced my weight from 175 to 115 pounds. Finally an eminent physician prescribed Dr. Howard's Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and I soon improved. My weight went to about 150 pounds, and has stayed around there. Previous to taking the specific I had to live on rice and rye bread, but now I eat anything and everything. I always take a dose after a heavy night meal, such as a banquet, and am all right in the morning."

It is the medicine that cured Mr. Green that the Potters' Drug Store is selling at half price and guaranteeing will cure.

chances looked about 26 to 1 for a score. Lauderbaugh was safe on Heckathorn's muf of Brown's bad throw and he tried to score when Berry's fly fell safe in left for two sacks. Maley whipped the ball to Brown and Duff had it at the plate to meet Lauderbaugh when he slid in. Duff whipped it back to Brown, who completed a pretty double by nailing Berry, who was trying for third on the throw in. After this, until the ninth, the visitors did not get a man past first.

The locals made a cluster of four in the second. O'Leary went to first via the "Big Four" route and a passed ball helped him to second. Brown's single moved him up to bag No. 3 and he scored after Speer had nailed Webb's long foul fly. Brown scored and Rearn took third when Irwin threw wild on the latter's grounder. Winters, batting left handed, soaked the leather to extreme right for a homer.

With two down in the ninth, Ramsay sent one over the second sack that Webb stabbed for but could not reach. The ball took a bad bound past Rearn and Ramsay landed on third. He was left when McBride skied to Gibson. Score:

Body Found in the Woods.

Warren, O., Aug. 8.—Three months ago William McCracken, a well-known young married man of this city, disappeared. This afternoon two boys found in a woods north of town his body, which was identified by the clothes. A revolver lay nearby, and it is thought he committed suicide.
He was the son of James McCracken, member of the Warren board of public service.

Flight Between Officers and Outlaws.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 10.—In a flight between deputy marshals and a gang of outlaws that took place in the Osage Nation, one outlaw is reported killed, another seriously wounded, and Wiley Haines, a deputy marshal, is said to have been fatally wounded. A heavy storm cut off communication with Pawhuska, the capital of Osage, and particulars are lacking. The outlaws are believed to be members of the Martin gang, who recently, near Parterville, I. T., held up and robbed 100 travelers on a lonely country road.
The deputies have been on their trail
for a month.

Shot Through the Heart.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Aug. 10.—Ben Darnell entered the Beaumont hotel bar and, with drawn knife, tried to cut Tom Gibbons, the bartender, who got his pistol and shot Darnell through the heart. He died instantly. Gibbons is under arrest.

The Papal Procession.

Inside the vatican palace there was no less movement and bustle as the papal procession, composed of about 500 persons, all of whom had gathered early in the apostolic palace, was formed. The pope seemed to be the only tranquil one among them all. He rose unusually early and took a stroll

in the vatican garden. Then he allowed himself to be dressed by the cardinals.

He evinced no nervousness and even said jokingly to the master of ceremonies, who the other day suggested that he should use the plural form in speaking of himself.

"We feel very well this morning, but we may be different on returning from our coronation."

Just before entering the Sedia Gestatoria the pope asked for his spectacles, and when the master of ceremonies discreetly hinted that his holiness would look better without them he said: "I have no desire to appear what I am not," and in fact he wore them during the entire ceremony.

The procession was a long time in getting under way, but afterwards it is moved through the magnificent halls

and corridors of the vatican it recalled

days when all was color and picturesqueness within the palace.

Pius X, the Central Figure.

The central figure in the long cortege was Pius X, borne in the Sedia

Gestatoria. His heavy white robes and the red and gold mitre were worn

without an effort, making a vivid contrast to those memorable occasions.

APPROPRIATED A COW AND GOT IN TROUBLE

SON AND MOTHER MIXED UP IN AN UGLY FIGHT.

Arrests and Informations Made and the End Not Yet Reached.

William Grim, who is one of the heirs of the late Sophia M. Goppert, is likely to become involved in a middle that will cost him considerable money and perhaps his liberty.

Mrs. Kate Grim, mother of the young man, and George Goppert, brother of Mrs. Grim, are the executors of the estate, and when William Grim signified his intention of appropriating a cow which he claimed was his own, he was advised by both to let it alone, as the estate had not been settled and he would get into trouble. He paid no attention to the warning and during the absence of Mrs. Grim in this city, went to Chester, took the cow from the stable and was leading it to this city. He was accompanied by his father-in-law, Thomas Beaver, and the party was met on the bridge by Mrs. Grim and Frederick Goppert, another brother. The latter demanded that the cow be taken back, and when young Grim refused, he was in the act of taking possession of it when Beaver interfered, striking Goppert several times.

Meantime Mrs. Grim and her son engaged in an argument which was so heated that the son finally struck his mother. Then Mrs. Grim proceeded to chastise her son. For a time the scene was interesting, but the battle was soon over, and Goppert was determined to have the alleged thieves arrested. The police were summoned, but by the time they arrived both men and cow had disappeared.

Goppert and Mrs. Grim proceeded to city hall where they made information against Beaver for assault. He was brought in later and paid a fine of $8 for his part in the affair.

Young Grim in a spirit of resentment swore out a warrant against his mother, and she will be arraigned tonight. Mrs. Grim is not a strong woman and those who witnessed the trouble are indignant over the son's treatment of his mother.

COAL DEPOSIT FOUND OF FINE QUALITY

Valuable Discovery Made at Long's Crossing—Land to Be Leased.

Salem, August 19.—Drillers employed by Cleveland and Youngstown capitalists who have been sinking a hole on the Michael Muntz farm, near Long's Crossing, struck a four foot vein of block coal at a depth of 130 feet.

The coal found is especially valuable and will be used in Cleveland and other points for manufacture of artificial gas. In the same territory there is a No. 3 vein of the same mineral and the prospects of finding a paying quantity are encouraging. It is the intention of the capitalists to lease 300 acres of land in that vicinity. The contract made by the capitalists with the owners of the land in that vicinity provides that the land is to be tested before leased.

The parties interested in the development of the territory are well satisfied with the coal found and will continue with the hope of securing better deposits of the black diamonds.

RED PEPPER USED TO FIGHT SHOWMEN

An Ex-Policeman of Wellsburg Narrowly Escaped Rough Treatment.

Wellsburg, W. Va., August 10.—Frank Tiernan, a former policeman, evidently had a grudge against the Keystone Carnival company, which has been exhibiting here. At least his actions indicated this, as he had been heard to boast, it is said, that he would "run" the company out of town.

Saturday night he proceeded to carry out his threat. Armed with a quantity of red pepper, it is alleged, he started after the employees of the company and distributed the pepper so judiciously that the employees and a number of bystanders received it in their eyes. One of the showmen received such a heavy dose that cocaine had to be administered to relieve his sufferings.

The crowd started after Tiernan, and it was only through the activity of the police that he escaped rough treatment. He was landed in the lock-up after considerable trouble, and is being held there without bail.

BOOKWALTER TAKEN UP BY THE JOHNSON FACTION AS SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

He is a Millionaire and the Democracy Would Like to See Him In
the Race.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 10.—The Johnson wing has discarded John J. Lentz, of Columbus, and taken up John W. Bookwalter, of Springfield, for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Bookwalter has not been in politics since 1881, when, as the candidate of the Democracy for governor, he was defeated by Charles Foster, Republican, by a plurality of 25,000. He is a millionaire and a liberal contributor to the campaign fund. The Johnson people will center on him to weaken the candidacy of John L. Zimmerman, both being from the same city. The convention would not stand for nominations for the two highest places going to any one city, and the Johnson people realize that if they can secure the convention's endorsement of Bookwalter for the senatorship that Zimmerman will be shut out of the nomination for governor. Tom Johnson is determined to have that gubernatorial nomination and his lieutenants are leaving nothing undone to bring this about. The Ohio Democracy is in the throes of one of the bitterest

factional fights it has had on hand for many years. Arrayed on one side are the Johnson forces and on the other the conservatives who are for Zimmerman.

Carrie Nation, the erstwhile joint smasher, sets high value upon herself as an attraction. Hon. W. S. McKinnon, of Ashtabula, has fixed August 20-22 as the time and Cedar Point as the place for the annual reunion of the general assembly and its attaches. THE NEW SCALE FOR ENGINEERS

Failed to Go Into Operation Today,
But Will Soon Be Settled.

TERMS AS AGREED UPON

The new scale of prices of the local branch of the International Union of Steam Engineers was to have gone into effect today, but owing to a misunderstanding on the part of the officers of the Potters' association the enforcement of the regulation will be delayed for a few days.

Local union No. 196 of the International Union of Steam Engineers, located in this city, was organized about a year ago and just previous to July 10 formed and presented to the several factory owners a scale of prices and working conditions to go into effect on August 10. The union is one of the strongest and best in the city. It is connected with an international head, which in turn is subordinate to the American Federation of Labor. The membership of the East Liverpool local is made up of many of the best citizens of the city—men who have resided here for many years and who have held and still retain positions of trust and responsibility. The purpose in banding together and forming a scale was to bring about a uniformity in working conditions and insure the workmen in this line against long hours and poor pay.

It was the aim of the officers and members in compiling the scale to refrain from including a single clause which might be obnoxious to the employers. The association devoted considerable time to the task of striking averages and making inquiries with the object in view of making the working conditions similar both as to hours and wages throughout its jurisdiction. When their committees reported, and the new scale had been approved by the international union it was presented to the factory owners in the following form:

This agreement is made between the International Union of Steam Engineers' Local No. 169, of East Liverpool, O., and all corporations and firms employing licensed steam engineers.

Section 1.—That the minimum wages shall be $2.50 per day's work.

Section 2.—That the hours and conditions remain in all plants as at present established.

Section 3.—This agreement to take effect August 10, 1903, and to remain in force one year from date.

ITALIAN BOY DROWNED AT
WELLSVILLE YESTERDAY.

Sank From Sight In Full View of Companions—Body Not Recovered.

Started by a despairing cry for help, the companions of Nicola Dinnzio, an Italian boy, aged 18 years, turned just in time to see him sink beneath the waters of the Ohio, near the pier opposite the rolling mill in Wellsville. The boys, most of whom were Italians, had been enjoying a Sunday afternoon swim, and Dinnzio, more daring than the others, had swum considerable distance from the pier. He either became exhausted or was seized with a cramp and sank before help could reach him.

A search for the body was immediately instituted by a party of fishermen and men from the rolling mill and it was continued throughout the night and today without success. Both grappling hooks and dynamite were used.

Dinnzio had been in this country little more than a year and lived with Nicola Solvana, his brother-in-law, on Third street.

HEIDRICK PROMISES TO BEHAVE BETTER

Released from Jail He Agrees to Care for His Wife And Children.

Walter Heidrick was released from the city jail this morning, and accompanied by his wife and children left the city hall resolved to begin all over again.

Heidrick, who has experienced a revulsion of feeling since getting away from the Early woman, is determined to do the right thing and his wife is very happy in consequence. He states that the Early girl has communicated with him and promises to shoot him on sight. He believes she is bluffing and will pay no attention to the threat. Heidrick maintains that he was not to blame for the trouble, as he says the girl was continually hanging about and it was impossible to keep out of her way.

Mrs. Heidrick's brother is much disturbed over the reports that there were none to offer his sister shelter or a home. He says she is welcome at his home at all times.

Lisbon, August 10.—(Special)—Robert Campbell is plaintiff in a suit against W. S. Potts, as administrator of the estate of John Matthews. He avers that, on June 17, 1897, John Matthews delivered to Charles Matthews his promissory note for $1,000, made July 15, 1890. Robert Campbell then purchased the note and claims no part of it has been paid. The administrator has entirely rejected the claim. The plaintiff asks interest and costs.

NUMEROUS WILD DOGS

The farmers about three miles back of Chester are becoming alarmed over the increase in the number of wild dogs in that part of the country. The dogs are extremely ferocious and on account of their degradations last winter, John Wesley Johnston, Edward Hadley, William C. Allison and others of the farmers intend organizing a party for the purpose of exterminating the species.

The first of the wild dogs to make its appearance was about eight years ago, and was first seen by Bill Allison while going from his house to the barn. He called the animal which paid no attention to his call, but fled with the speed of the wind from him, disappearing in a thicket. The wild animal has put in his appearance regularly

Began Early in the Morning With a Raid Upon a Saloon.

M'DERMOTT'S GREAT LUCK

Three Prisoners Landed Without the Necessity of Hunting for Them. Other Arrests for Various Offenses Increase the Total.

There was unusual activity in police circles on Saturday night and Sunday, and at noon yesterday the total number of offenders gathered in being 10. There were an unusually large number of people on the streets Saturday night and it was quite late before the officers were permitted to look up lawbreakers on the edges. At a little after 1 o'clock Chief Wyman and Officers Dawson and Saulsberry were on Second street, and from their observation concluded there was something doing at the saloon of Jimmie Larkins, near the passenger station. The officers made their way to the rear and succeeded in gaining an entrance.

The proprietor and four men were in the saloon and they were surprised when the officers made their appearance. The saloonist was ordered to appear before the mayor today and the four men caught in the place were brought to the city hall, where it was intended that they should stay until the mayor saw fit to give them a hearing. The unfortunate individuals captured in the saloons gave their names as Hugh Morris, Walter Shay, John Burke and Philip Brannon. The authorities are of the opinion that the men gave their right names, which is unusual under such circumstances. Shay had money and gave security for the appearance of Morris and himself on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The others were locked up. The charge against the proprietor of the place will be that of keeping his saloon open on Sunday and he will be prosecuted under the state law.

While the party was on its way from the Larkins saloon to city hall Officer Dawson encountered Elijah Cain, who was very drunk and acting in a disgusting and indecent manner. He was picked up and made to join the procession. Elijah is a man of poor judgment when it comes to handling booze, and he has been in trouble many times.

Officer McDermott had a great streak of luck yesterday morning. He had his favorite beat on Smoky and was in the vicinity of the National House when he heard a commotion near Walnut street. When he arrived on the scene K. P. Beatty, who resides in that vicinity, was in the act of throwing two drunks over the fence. The men had been leaning against the fence, and being very drunk they both lost their balance and fell over into the yard. Mr. Beatty's dogs attacked the drunks, and it would doubtless have fared badly with them had not the owner appeared. The patrol was summoned and the men were taken to jail. They gave their names as James Daugherty and William Cassidy, and said they were employed by Contractor Sims.

McDermott had a suspicion that there were more of the crowd and it was well founded, for a few minutes later he discovered Dan Collins at the rear of the old gas house. Dan was paralyzed and it was necessary to carry him to the patrol, which had turned about and came directly to the spot. All three of the men are railroad la-

FROM PITTSBURG TO CLEVELAND

PROPOSED TRACTION LINES
DOWN THE OHIO RIVER.

Will Join the Beaver Valley and New Castle Systems With Ohio Lines.

Charters have been granted at Barboursburg to two traction companies which propose to build important links in the trolley system connecting Pittsburgh with the Beaver valley. The officers of both companies are Philadelphia capitalists, and the promoters of the entire line ostensibly Philadelphians, but it is believed that they are the same men who were reported to be interested with Murry A. Verner and other Pittsburghers in the development of the traction facilities of the territory between New Castle and Pittsburgh.

The two companies will construct 13 miles of trolley roads between Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca. Interests identified with the same project are connected with the Beaver Valley Traction company, which now operates 35 miles of traction lines in western Pennsylvania. The work of construction will begin early in the fall.

The charters were as follows: To the Coraopolis & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build five miles of road, beginning at Monaca Beaver county, and extending through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa. The capital is $60,000; president, William Redwood Wright of Philadelphia.

To the Monaca & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build 10 miles of road, beginning at Monaca Beaver county, and extending through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa. The capital is $60,000; president, William Redwood Wright of Philadelphia. The directors, all Philadelphians, are W. Frederick Snyder and Walter T. Bilyeu.

In discussing the new charters and the proposed plans of the company W. Frederick Snyder, of Philadelphia said:

"The lines now operated by the Beaver Valley Traction company start 18 miles north of Pittsburgh, run through 15 different boroughs and to a point 14 miles from New Castle. So prosperous has been the business of the company during the past year, the gross earnings having increased about 124 per cent, that the directors decided to extend the system through Aliquippa, Coraopolis and Monaca, the idea being to connect Pittsburgh and New Castle. To that end the new lines were chartered and construction work will begin in the fall. The contractor for the work has been awarded to A. H. Engstrom, a Philadelphia constructing engineer."

OVER $100,000 WILL BE SPENT IN RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WELLSVILLE YARDS

Facilities Will Be Surpassed Only By Conway.
Harrison Rinehart Gets a Big Contract.

When the contract awarded Saturday by the C. & P. railroad to Harrison Rinehart, of this city, is completed, the Wellsville yards of the company will only be surpassed in extent by those at Conway. The contract is one of the largest of its nature entered into by the company in recent years, involving an expenditure of considerably more than $100,000. That the company has confidence in the ability of the successful bidder to complete the undertaking in the required length of time is in itself a compliment.

Mr. Rinehart has just completed some extensive paving work for the company and will be free to devote all his men and implements to the new undertaking. He will commence work next Tuesday with about 100 men and 10 teams.

The contract calls for almost a mile of grading, commencing at a point near the Carroll-Porter boiler works and extending to the Vulcan brick plant. The estimated amount of dirt to be moved is 280,000 yards. Contractors were as follows: To the Coraopolis & Aliquippa Electric Street Railway company, to build five miles of road, beginning at Monaca Beaver county, and extending through the townships of Moon and Hopewell to Aliquippa. The capital is $60,000; president, William Redwood Wright of Philadelphia.

The members of the order of Sons of Veterans of Columbiana county will hold their first annual reunion Wednesday, August 19, at Shelton's grove, in the northern part of the county. It is expected that the attendance will be very large.

Several months ago the movement was started by the members of General Garfield camp of this city and the camp of Salem. A committee representing both organizations was appointed and have been at work ever since. The date was decided upon some time ago and the grove engaged for the occasion. The committee has arranged a program which promises to be entertaining.

Arrangements will be made when the camps of the county get together for the formation of a county organization. Representatives will be present from Salem, East Palestine, Wellsville, Lisbon and East Liverpool. It will be the aim of the new association to assist in the formation of new camps and to give the state and national officers all the aid possible. It is also proposed to keep up the reunion plan, and during the month of August of each year the meeting will be held.

The order has grown materially in Columbiana county since the division headquarters were established in East Liverpool, and Colonel J. J. Rose with his efficient staff has been unusually successful. Interested parties in a number of localities throughout the county have begun an agitation for the institution of new camps, and it is confidently expected that with in a year several organizations will have been added to the Ohio division.

The Potteries

CONDITION OF TRADE.

While general confidence is expressed in the crockery line that the fall trade will be up to, if not better than it was a year ago, there is as yet but little activity in the local warerooms. Of course, business is slowly but surely improving a little every day, but buyers are not here in such large numbers as had generally been looked for, says the New York Commercial. Even the salesmen who are now on the road have not yet sent in many orders, but they report general conditions as good, so that it is only a question of time when the trade will come in.

In anticipation of the movement which is expected to begin soon, the potteries of Trenton are already getting goods in readiness for display and shipment. The movement in both foreign and domestic goods is as yet quite dull, but seasonal and about on a par with the business effected a year ago.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.

It is stated that the West End Pottery company are about to make some more improvements around their works. They are to have a new water main leading to the plant, to further its protection in case of fire, and new buildings for sagger house room, etc., will be erected immediately. The company will also install almost an entirely new outfit of machinery in this department of their works, which will facilitate matters greatly around the same. The pottery has five kilns now, which increases their capacity almost 100 per cent, and with these improvements the plant is capable of turning out almost twice as much ware as formerly.

DINOSAURS AND LOVE

The Prelude to a Romance—A Wedding to Follow in the Fall.

New York, August 10.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth —, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of a prominent Harvard professor, and Mr. — of New York, is the climax of a pretty romance as ever novelist conceived. This announcement follows closely that of the important discovery as to the habits of the Dinosaur. Indeed, this ancient animal might be said to be at the foundation of the love-making which has resulted in the announcement of the engagement. The story is intensely interesting.

The professor arrived in New York early in April. As his investigations were pursued in the American Museum of Natural History, he sought convenient and suitable quarters in the neighborhood of that magnificent institution. His friend, Judge Isham, suggested the Hotel Majestic, situated only five blocks distant at Seventy-Second street and Central Park, West, and there it was the professor found ideal accommodations. Indeed, so delighted was he with his surroundings that he wrote for his daughter to come to New York. Needless to say, she came, and it was there she met a well known member of the swell set. So it came about that while the professor was delving among the bones of ancient Dinosaurs at the museum, his daughter and the young New Yorker played the ancient and highly delectable game of love.

The foyer is the center of the social life of the hotel. Here ladies and gentlemen sit and chat and receive their friends. Here the orchestra plays its evening concert, excepting on warm evenings, when it transfers its melody to the roof garden.

"Of course, it goes without saying that the appointments, the cuisine and the service are perfect. But it is the tangible air of refinement that appeals to me. There is no restraint save that imposed by one's good breeding. And there is nothing of the shoddy in guests or garnishments. Everything is in exquisite taste.

"Elizabeth is wild over the shopping.

We run down on the elevated or the trolleys, which we take a block from the hotel. It takes only about 15 minutes to reach the shops.

asked me to look up a hotel where he can bring his daughter next winter. Tell him they make it enjoyable here for young people.

"Don't imagine from all I have told you of the social side or life here that one is constantly in the social current. One may be a perfect recluse if he wants to be. I heard a good story yesterday of two ladies who met and became greatly attached to each other in Los Angeles, and who discovered, to their mutual surprise, that they both had been living at the Majestic ever since it was opened. The social element is here to enjoy, if you care for it; but there is no compulsion about it. So I have about decided to leave Elizabeth here when I go to Massachusetts next week to examine a recent find of fossils near Medfield. She will be in good hands, especially as Mrs. Willing and Mrs. Dumont are here, as well as a number of other people whom you know.

"They have such delightful concerts every evening at the hotel that both Elizabeth and I are content to seek a quiet corner of the grand foyer and listen to the music. The leader of the orchestra is a 'cello soloist of note and his orchestra is perfection.

PATENT ENDANGERS RURAL CARRIERS JOB

A Western Man's Invention to Deliver and Collect Mail Mechanically.

Nelson S. Howell, of Cumming, Madison county, has a working model 80 rods long of an automatic mail delivery and collection apparatus, which is built according to a device he recently patented and is working satisfactorily, says a Red Oak, (Ia.) telegram. It is designed especially for rural mail service, supplanting carriers, but seems to be capable of development to an extent that would do away with many of the country postoffices and centralize the handling of mail to a great extent, expediting the service, reducing the number of carriers and clerks and greatly reducing expenses, ing expenses.

The apparatus consists of an endless cable, carried on poles and delivering and collecting mail by clockwork. The cable in a line 30 miles long can be operated by a 1 1/2 horse power gasoline engine, and the cable can be operated at a speed which will permit as many deliveries in a day as are desired. The power is supplied by a drum. The deliveries are regulated automatically. For instance, if there are 50 patrons on the endless chain route, the mail pouch of No. 1 drops at his mail box, while the other 49 pouches are carried on, each dropping at its respective place. The collections are also made automatically. The apparatus is not intricate and does not readily get out of order.

It is claimed that the general use of this system by the government will not only reduce the cost of the rural mail service to a minimum, but will bring to every resident of the country, instead of a favored few, the modern convenience of a daily mail delivery. The establishing of a cable-carrying plant in a country seat would be sufficient for the entire county.

It would simplify the work of the railway mail clerks enormously if they were required to throw mail only to the county seats. In Iowa, for instance, there are 91 county seats and 2,500 postoffices.

OF THE SUFFERERJesus Proved Himself Willing To

Leper.HIS CHARITY IS BROAD

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of St. John's Lutheran church, preached to a large congregation last night, taking as his text, "And Jesus said, 'Were there not ten cleansed? Where are the nine?'" He said in part:

"In a little town of Samaria stand two lepers afar off. Look at that isolated group of unfortunate and thank God that you have not that disease among you. The leper was shut out from home and society and outside of the wall of the city he lived in a solitary camp. Others could worship and offer sacrifices in the house of Christ, but no high priest went within the walls of the poor leper. But Jesus passed on his way to the feast at Jerusalem. What a contrast in His bearing toward the leper! The healer of all diseases, the comforter of all that are in distress, has a look of love and pity and a bearing of power.

"No friend sympathizes so tenderly with his friend in affliction as does Jesus. In all our afflictions, He is afflicted. He feels all our sorrows. Whence it is that the sufferings of believers are called the sufferings of Christ? His righteousness is over you. His strong arm is around you and he who puts his soul in Christ's keeping shall never perish nor come into condemnation. This is our friend in need and our friend in deed.

"Those ten lepers who had despaired of all other help now cried, 'Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!'

Unlike all Jewish practice, Jesus had mercy and He healed them. Blessed Master, we are all lepers, and whilst the self-righteousness will starve us because of sin, thou dost pity, touch and heal our unrighteousness. None, Jesus, one Samaritan. Nine are of Jesus' people and one is not. Are there more of God's chosen afflicted than of the worlding? You think that none who are born of the household of faith ought to have temptations, troubles and afflictions. But when they sin, the greater is their responsibility, the quicker is their punishment. 'Have mercy on us!' Yes, they felt that there was guilt and judgment connected with their misery. All suffering is of sin. You must remove sin to remove suffering.

"Surely, all were so very glad as to turn back to the source of help and thank Jesus after they had been made clean. Alas! Nine did not; one came. You can't rely very much on people, if they are not humble in health and prosperity, that their pertinent feeling means much when in sorrow and sickness.

"Sadly Christ echoes the question, 'Were there not ten cleansed, where are the nine?' He looks to the communion altar, then remembers the many who had just bowed there, but still the searching cry is, 'Where are the nine?' Alas, so shall it be up by the Gate, the thousands of thousands shall enter Saint's Rest, but as they file in, Christ's sad reflection upon the multitudes who have not come or framed excuses, shall ever be 'Where are the nine?'

Rev. E. H. Maloney at St. Stephens'.

Rev. E. H. Maloney, at St. Stephens' church, preached from the text, "The Rock Was Christ" at the service last evening. The lesson drawn was the need of greater faith in the church of God and in Jesus Christ, the founder of the church. The church of God is a great society and Jesus Christ is its head and leading representative. Christ, through the assistance of the Father, founded the church of the living God on earth and He placed the apostles at His head for they had been trained in the spiritual needs of the people. Money, people and a form of worship do not constitute a church. God's church as a defined institution.

We can do no good without God. Religion has not been forced upon us, but it was ordained by God. Let us, through the church, draw near to God and receive the inspiration and grace that is required for righteous Christian living.

ditions to be observed as the basis of prosperity and in the possession of worldly substances, conditions that are too often lost sight of or ignored, and these facts were pointed out ably and forcibly by the minister.

A person should provide a comfortable home, plenty of raiment and food with his worldly substance and there should be intellectual development and growth of character.

Righteousness before God is an essential to prosperity. The substance of the wicked is cast away and their gains never satisfy them. They bring no joy or gratitude. Diligence is to be considered, as this is one of the first laws of God. The modern majesty consists of work.

Subject Of An Able Sermon By Dr. Pratt At the M. E. Church.

Part of the 31st chapter of St. Mark, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save," provided the text for the sermon of Rev. Dr. Pratt at the First Methodist church last evening. The minister gave his large congregation a beautiful word picture of the crucifixion of God's ambassador from the skies, the taunts of the Pharisees, whence come the words of the text, and the indifference of the Roman soldiers. The Romans, hardened to acts of cruelty, did not gloat over Christ's suffering but the Pharisees rejoiced with the hearts of hell.

Next Sunday an offering will be taken at the church for the support of aged ministers and the extension of the educational work of the denomination, in both the home and foreign field.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach well. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Reed Hanna, a 14-Year-Old Lad, Meets With a Serious Mishap.

Reed Hanna, 14 years old, residing on Erie street, is improved considerably, after a fall from a height of about 15 feet. Young Hanna, with Everett Short, were enjoying themselves Saturday in Thompson park, in climbing apple trees. When near the top of one of the trees a limb on which young Hanna was standing broke and precipitated him to the ground.

The boy was unable to arise and his companion hurried to the East End for assistance. The party went to where the boy was lying on the ground unable to walk. He was carried to his home and after an examination his injuries were found to consist of a badly wrenched back and some bruises. He will be able to be about before long.

Sunday Services.

All of the houses of worship in the East End last night were well attended. Rev. Dr. Taggart filled the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church, in place of Rev. D. W. Rayman lectured to a large audience in the Second Presbyterian church in the absence of Rev. N. M. Crowe. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached very interesting sermons morning and evening, in the Erie street M. E. church.

A Mahoning County Citizen Brings Suit Against the Y. & S. Railway.

Youngstown, August 10.—The most recent suit brought against the Youngstown & Southern Railway company is that of James W. Chambers plaintiff, through Attorney D. F. Griffith, alleging that the defendant was granted right of way through his property, south of the city, certain stipulations being made as to the location of the proposed track or tracks. When work was commenced it was discovered by Mr. Chambers that the indicated route was not being followed, the company crossing his land as it pleased and without reference to the agreement.

Thereupon the plaintiff sought relief at the hands of the court through a junction and a temporary restraining order was granted by Probate Judge J. Calvin Ewing.

By this time, if the members of the city council have been thinking and reflecting, or if they have made the least effort to learn what the citizens of East Liverpool most desire, they have doubtless convinced themselves that to reduce the police force would be both impolitic and unpopular. The mayor's veto of the unreasonable and ill-advised ordinance exactly voices public sentiment. Will the members of council go on record as the servants of the people and obey the people's behest, or will they boldly defy the popular will and stamp themselves as the foes of decency and good order? The time is near when they must register their answer.

One of the proposed amendments to the constitution of this state, which will be submitted to the people for

to which stockholders are now liable.
The argument in favor of this is, that more Ohio organizations will incorporate in this state, instead of going to other communities, which have more liberal laws, to obtain incorporation.

It is the part of wisdom to keep these corporations at home.

Colonel William J. Bryan's latest favorite for the nomination on his side in 1904 is an Illinois man who was unknown until the colonel mentioned him.
The North Carolina man whom Bryan brought out a month or two ago has dropped back into the oblivion from which he was pulled. The Illinois Bryanian personage may not have so far to fall, for he has not got out of the oblivion yet far enough to be discerned by the unaided eye.

President Roosevelt's letter on impress upon postoffice department em-thoughtful. The law's delay and the many devices now used for guarding the guilty against the consequences of crime are the first matters to be attended to by legislators, judges and people. Swift and certain punishment of the crimes that now provoke lynching will remove the incentive to mob violence.

Tom Johnson is likely to be a dear experiment for Cleveland. The present bonded debt of that city is above $20,000,000, of which over a million has been added within the past seven months. The city debt is more than one-tenth of the total tax valuation.
Yet Johnson is endeavoring to increase it.

Prof. Langley's airship made a successful trip, but not a successful descent, as it landed in the river. Darius Green encountered the same difficulty. "Flyin' is easy," said he; "the trouble is when you come to 'light'."

Man-eating sharks have made their appearance at Atlantic City. The vacationists who spend their holidays at resorts are congratulating themselves.

Two shots were fired Sunday at the prime minister of France. It is time for the suppression of anarchy be organized and get down to business.

The W. R. Hearst presidential boom is about to be launched. It will be treated, like W. R. Hearst's newspapers, as amusing, but not worthy of serious consideration.

A scientist estimates that there are seven hundred billion mosquitoes in existence. He must have based the calculation on observations made in

Gen. Miles will scarcely be content with the second place on the presidential ticket which his Democratic brethren are disposed to assign him.

No Republican is objecting to Tom Johnson as a Democratic candidate for governor. All the objections come from those more closely interested.

President Roosevelt is determined to impress upon postoffice department employees the truth that public office is not a private snap.

Tom Johnson is engaged in the difficult task of manufacturing a spontaneous enthusiasm for himself.

CENTENNIAL HELD
BY AN OLD CHURCH

Holmes M. E. Congregation. Said to Be Oldest in Ohio, Holds a Celebration.

Steubenville, August 10.—Hundreds of people, former members and ministers, assembled at Holmes M. E. church on Short Creek Saturday to celebrate the centennial of the church, which is held to be the first M. E.
church built west of the Ohio river.

The first church building, or the one originally erected by this congregation, was put up in 1803 on the bank of Short Creek. It was called Holmes meeting house after Jacob Holmes, a prominent member of the society and local minister who lived near it. It was a hewed log house about 26 feet long, with a chimney in the side. In 1810 a new house was completed about a half mile from the first and on higher ground. Up to the year 1829 there was a large and flourishing society, when an unfortunate division took place, resulting in building a Methodist Protestant house of worship a mile away. In February 1874, the trustees agreed to build a new and more commodious house.
It was commenced in June and completed in November. Holmes church is a plain, neat, beautiful house and neatly furnished, costing about $3,200.

Among the speakers were Rev. R. P.
Pepe, Rev. C. W. Smith, Rev. C. E.
Manchester, Rev. O. W. Holmes, Rev.
C. B. Henthorn, Rev. S. B. Salmon
Rev. S. A. Peregoy.

Of all the remedies in Will Reed's popular drug store, there are very few he is willing to sell with a guarantee to refund the money if they do not give satisfaction.

Mi-o-na, the famous flesh-forming food and cure for stomach troubles, has done such wonders among his customers that he is now advertising "If Mi-o-na does not give a noticeable gain in weight, if it fails to cure in digestion and all stomach troubles, come back to my store and get your money."

Anyone who has been losing flesh or who has always been too thin, should use Mi-o-na. Thinness and emaciation are signs that the food is not properly assimilated and that you do not get the nourishment you should.

Mi-o-na mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition; it saves the digestive organs from exhaustive work. By its use the elements needed to put flesh on your bones will be selected from the food, and each day will show a noticeable gain in weight.

Commence the use of Mi-o-na today at Will Reed's risk. If it increases your weight and cures you of indigestion, it will cost you 50 cents; if it does not, Will Reed will pay for the treatment himself and return your money.

In the evening at the regular service, Rev. Dr. Bundy, of Cleveland, who is the presiding elder of the district, delivered a very eloquent sermon, after which he administered the sacrament.

ITALIANS THE VICTIMS

Of a Second Robbery, Even the Pistol Relied Upon for Protection Stolen.

The Italians living in a shanty near the railroad trestle on the Melvin Gardner property are having extremely hard luck. A short time ago the place was entered by two men who secured some money and gave one of the Italians a terrible beating. After this incident, the Italians invested in a 38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver for their protection. Friday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock, the shanty was again entered into during the absence of the men, who work in the mill, and the revolver, a watch and chain and numerous other articles were taken. A small amount of money that was concealed in a back room was over looked.

The many cases of petty thieving about the town reported to the police are credited to some one living in the town, as the police have been watching closely and state that no suspicious strangers have been noticed of late.

Morg Winters reappeared as a slab artist at the Saturday afternoon matinee and occupied the center of the stage during the entire game. The last time Morg essayed to pitch he was sent to the tall grass before the game was two innings old, but Saturday he was there with his footers and puzzlers, also his whitewash brush, and his batting eye.

Only twice did Canonsburg show any ability to make the circuit in the second when Launderbaugh was nailed at the very gate of the promised land on a relay from Maley to Brown to Emmerling, and in the ninth when Ramsay's grasser eluded both Webb and Rark. The visitors could not find Morg for consecutive safeties, their five being scattered in as many innnings. Not one of them was given free transportation to first.

Winters had almost perfect support, the only misce coming in the second when Heckathorn muffed Brown's poor throw of Launderbaugh's easy grounder. If the team puts up as good a fielding game against the Ohio Works and Niles teams this week the visitors will experience victory famine at West End park.

The game was several hundred per cent better than the opener on Friday, and the visitors cut their error list from 13 to 3. Eastley, who did the twirling for them, settled down after the third and was giving Winters a good argument for the honors of the slab department. The second and third for the locals with a cluster of five hits and errors by Irwin and Fritz netted a half dozen runs, the entire crop for the game.

Some fast fielding in the second sent the visitors to the field when the chances looked about 20 to 1 for a score. Launderbaugh was safe on Heckathorn's miff of Brown's bad throw and he tried to score when Berry's fly fell safe in left for two sacks. Maley whipped the ball to Brown and Duff had it at the plate to meet Launderbaugh when he slid in. Duff whipped it back to Brown, who completed a pretty double by nailing Berry, who was trying for third on the throw in. After this, until the ninth, the visitors did not get a man past first.

The locals made a cluster of four in the second. O'Leary went to first via the "Big Four" route and a passed ball helped him to second. Brown's single moved him up to bag No. 3 and he scored after Speer had nailed Webb's long foul fly. Brown scored and Rark took third when Irwin threw wild on the latter's grounder. Winters, batting left handed, soaked the leather to extreme right for a Homer.

With two down in the ninth, Ramsay sent one over the second sack that Webb stabbed for but could not reach. The ball took a bad bound past Rark and Ramsay landed on third. He was left when McBride skied to Wallace was out of it Saturday and "Big Heck" held down bag No. 1.

Irwin, the visitors' short fielder, had several sensational catches, but made one bad throw that cost a couple of runs eventually.

Gallimore is booked to pitch the game against the Youngstown Ohio Works team at West End park tomorrow, his selection resulting from the great form he showed in Saturday's game. Manager Rark was quick to take advantage of the disbanding of the Wellsville team and this morning signed Maag and Houser for short field and second base. Maag, who failed to make good here earlier in the season, has lately been playing the game of his life, while Houser is a recognized star. The team is in good shape for the game.

Gouzelle, the Ohio Works second baseman, will be the center of attraction. Local fans have heard so much about his sensational work that they will take advantage of the opportunity to see him in action. The game promises to be one of the best of the season. Following is the way the two teams will line up:

APPROPRIATED A COW AND GOT IN TROUBLE

SON AND MOTHER MIXED UP IN AN UGLY FIGHT.

Arrests and Informations Made and the End Not Yet Reached.

William Grim, who is one of the heirs of the late Sophia M. Goppert, is likely to become involved in a muddle that will cost him considerable money and perhaps his liberty.

Mrs. Kate Grim, mother of the young man, and George Goppert, brother of Mrs. Grim, are the executors of the estate, and when William Grim signified his intention of appropriating a cow which he claimed was his own, he was advised by both to let it alone, as the estate had not been settled and he would get into trouble. He paid no attention to the warning and during the absence of Mrs. Grim in this city, went to Chester, took the cow from the stable and was leading it to this city. He was accompanied by his father-in-law, Thomas Beaver, and the party was met on the bridge by Mrs. Grim and Frederick Goppert, another brother. The latter demanded that the cow be taken back, and when young Grim refused, he was in the act of taking possession of it when Beaver interfered, striking Goppert several times.

Meantime Mrs. Grim and her son engaged in an argument which was so heated that the son finally struck his mother. Then Mrs. Grim proceeded to chastise her son. For a time the scene was interesting, but the battle was soon over, and Goppert was determined to have the alleged thieves arrested. The police were summoned, but by the time they arrived both men and cow had disappeared.

Goppert and Mrs. Grim proceeded to city hall where they made information against Beaver for assault. He was brought in later and paid a fine of $5 for his part in the affair.

Young Grim in a spirit of resentment swore out a warrant against his mother, and she will be arraigned tonight. Mrs. Grim is not a strong woman and those who witnessed the trouble are indignant over the son's treatment of his mother.

COAL DEPOSIT FOUND OF FINE QUALITY

Valuable Discovery Made at Long's Crossing—Land to Be Leased.

Salem, August 19.—Drillers employed by Cleveland and Youngstown capitalists who have been sinking a hole on the Michael Muntz farm, near Long's Crossing, struck a four foot vein of block coal at a depth of 130 feet.

The coal found is especially valuable and will be used in Cleveland and other points for manufacture of artificial gas. In the same territory there is a No. 3 vein of the same mineral and the prospects of finding a paying quantity are encouraging. It is the intention of the capitalists to lease 300 acres of land in that vicinity. The contract made by the capitalists with the owners of the land in that vicinity provides that the land is to be tested before leased.

The parties interested in the development of the territory are well satisfied with the coal found and will continue with the hope of securing better deposits of the black diamonds.

POPE'S CORONATION

Central Figure in Long Cortege
Was Pius X, Borne in the Sedia Gestatoria.

A SCENE OF SOLEMN SPLENDOR

Ceremony Took Place in the Basilica of St. Peter's, with All the Splendor and Solemnity Associated With the Most Magnificent Rite in the Church.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The ceremony of the coronation of Pope Pius X took place in the basilica of St. Peter's in the presence of the princes and high dignitaries of the church, diplomats and Roman nobles, and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with this, the most magnificent rite in the Roman Catholic church.

As Cardinal Macchi, the dean of the cardinal-deacons, placed the triple crown on the head of the venerable pontiff the throng of 70,000 persons gathered within the cathedral burst into unrestrained acclamations, the choir intoned a hymn of triumph and the bells of Rome rang out a joyful peal.

It is 57 years since the Romans and Europeans assisted at such a function as was held in St. Peter's Sunday. The great basilica, popularly supposed never to have been quite full, was overflowing with humanity. The papal throne, a bewildering mixture of gold, red and silver, was erected in front of the high altar. As, contrary to custom on these ceremonial occasions there were no galleries, the basilica bore more of its normal aspect. On the altar, which was dressed in white, stood the famous silver gilt candlesticks and a magnificent crucifix. All the available standing space within the cathedral was divided into sections by wooden barriers, which to a certain extent kept the vast crowd in order.

OBSCURED BY FOG.

In the early hours after sunrise a thick fog hung over Rome and one bank of the Tiber could not be seen from the other, while from the St. Angelo bridge one seemed to look into a fathomless abyss instead of into the river. The effect was especially magnificent on entering the piazza of St. Peter's. At times Michael Angelo's great dome disappeared from view, while at others it appeared through the flowing golden mist. As the morning wore on the fog dispersed and the sun shone with all its southern intensity until it became unbearably hot, and the stones, columns and statues seemed to radiate the heat on the thousands waiting to enter the church.

At 6 a. m. the ringing of bells announced the imminent opening of the doors and a commotion at once began among the crowd. But 10 minutes had to elapse before the doors were opened, and each seemed a century to the waiting crowd, which for hours already had been standing before the closed portals. The police and Italian soldiers had a difficult task to maintain order, as the crushing and fatigued had begun to tell on the patience of the people.

When the doors were opened the rush was terrific; many who started from the bottom of the steps outside were lifted off their feet and carried into the cathedral. It was a great human torrent let loose, thousands of people rushing, crushing and squeezing amid screams, protests, gesticulation and cries for help. But once in the whirlpool there was no escape, and the compactness of the crowd proved to be the safety of those caught in it. Women fainted in comparatively large numbers, and even men were overcome by the heat, but no serious accidents were reported. Fortunately there were very few children present. After their entrance the people had further long hours of waiting, and it is computed that the majority were on their feet altogether 10 hours five before the ceremony and another five hours while it lasted.

It is understood to be likely that the president may appoint Charles P. McClelland, a senator of the Twenty-second New York district, to a position on the board of general appraisers. Under the law the appointee must be a Democrat. Senator McClelland has influential support for the appointment.

The Papal Procession.
Inside the vatican palace there was no less movement and bustle as the papal procession, composed of about 500 persons, all of whom had gathered early in the apostolic palace, was formed. The pope seemed to be the only tranquil one among them all. He rose unusually early and took a stroll in the vatican garden. Then he allowed himself to be dressed by the cardinals. He evinced no nervousness and even said jokingly to the master of ceremonies, who the other day suggested that he should use the plural form in speaking of himself: "we feel very well this morning, but we may be different on returning from our coronation."

Just before entering the Sedia Gestatoria the pope asked for his spectacles, and when the master of ceremonies discreetly hinted that his holiness would look better without them he said: "I have no desire to appear what I am not," and in fact he wore them during the entire ceremony.

The procession was a long time in getting under way, but afterwards as it moved through the magnificent halls and corridors of the vatican it recalled former days when all was color and picturesqueness within the palace.

Pius X, the Central Figure.
The central figure in the long cortège was Pius X, borne in the Sedia Gestatoria. His heavy white robes and the red and gold mitre were worn without an effort, making a vivid contrast to those memorable occasions.
